Sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Nix Flindall, of town, in the loss of his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Flindall, of Trenton, in a boating accident, near Oswego, New York, on Lake Ontario, last week.

Mr. Flindall, 57, and his 39-year-old wife, left Brighton on Wednesday morning aboard an American-owned 36-foot cabin cruiser, La Dolce Vita, which was later reported overdue at Rochester.

Dan Harris Plaque Re-Dedicated To Be Used by Minor Hockey Assoc.

After the death of Dan Harris in 1964, Mr. Douglas Harris presented a plaque to the Stirling-Rawdon District High School as a memorial to his brother. In his year as a student in the school here, Dan had shown noticeable promise as an athlete. The original inscription on the plaque read as follows: "To the student who contributes the most to athletics in the school". High school students who have felt highly honoured to have their names placed on the plaque have been Ken Smith in 1964, Doug. Potts and Ken Smith in 1965, Fred McAdam in 1966, Earl McFaul in 1967, and Don Potts in 1968.

Mr. Harris, now a teacher at the Ingersoll District Collegiate Institute, has recently provided a second inscription to be also placed on the plaque. It reads as follows: "In June 1968 this plaque was presented to the Stirling Minor Hockey Association to be awarded annually to the boy who best exhibits leadership and ability". It is thus Mr. Harris' wish that the plaque will be kept in use even though its original purpose has had to be changed.

The young people of Stirling interested in hockey will be pleased to learn that the Dan Harris Plaque has been handed to Mr. Bob Anderson, of the Stirling Minor Hockey Association, and will be available to be awarded after the 1968-69 season.

The A-line skirt was highlighted with a full bustle back caught with tiny bows at the bodice. She wore a matching rose headdress with four-tier veil. The bridesmaid, Miss Janet Donnan, and the junior bridesmaid, Miss Karen Milligan were attired identically to the maid of honour.

At the reception in the Masonic Temple, Belleville, the mother of the bride received the guests in an abstract print chiffon dress in grey tones with cowl neckline, with white accessories and a solitaire white orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother, who assisted, wore a turquoise lace dress with a corsage of white cymbidium orchids.

Watson, of R.R. 2, Campbellford, to Richard Clayton Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Thompson, of R.R. 5, Campbellford.

Harold Sarles, of Toronto, rendered traditional wedding music and the soloist for the ceremony was Jack Bush, of Stirling.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white lagoda silk crepe with an inverted front pleat, Guipure lace accenting the bell sleeves and train. The headpiece was of starburst petals, which caught the scalloped tulle illusion veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of lavender orchids and stephanotis, which fell from a lagoda crepe muff.

Maid of honour, Miss Joyce Thompson, of Ottawa, was attired in a floor length orchid peau de grenadine gown with matching headpiece. Bridesmaids, Miss Brenda Watson, sister of the bride, and Miss Bonnie Wallace were outfitted similar to that of the maid of honour.

Attending the bridegroom was Tom Thompson; and the ushers were Grant Watson and Doug Grant.

The wedding reception was held at St. John's auditorium, Campbellford, where the mother of the bride received her guests in an ensemble of blue peau de grenadine, wearing a corsage of carnations surrounded with blue stephanotis. The mother of the bridegroom wore a dress of pink peau de grenadine and a corsage of pink stephanotis.

For her travelling costume, the bride chose a coat and dress of shantung and silk respectively, in shades of brown and beige with complementing beige accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

The couple will reside in Guelph, Ontario.

Speeders

Magistrates in Ontario have been given more scope in the handling of cases involving speeding drivers. According to an amendment of the Highway Traffic Act the magistrates have the dicretionary power to suspend the licence of any driver who is convicted of speeding 30 miles per hour or more above the legal limit.

Speeding continues to be a problem, and excessive speed can be extremely dangerous.

In announcing this amendment, Hon. Irwin Haskett, Ontario Minister of Transport said that he felt the best person to consider a suspension is the Magistrate who has not only heard the evidence but has observed the accused.

This amendment will give the Magistrate the power to impose a suspension of up to 30 days at the time of conviction if he deems such action advisable.

Canada's Classroom Revolution

(Fourteenth Of A Series)
By WALT McDAYTER

In early Canada, the emphasis in education was on the four R's: reading, 'riting, 'rithmetic . . . and religion.

The first schools in Canada were run by French Roman Catholic missionaries. As early as 1635, Jesuits were teaching French and Indian children in Quebec.

Mother Marie of the Incarnation was the first nun to come to Canada, 1639. She dedicated her life to educating settlers' children and Indians, establishing a teaching monastery in Quebec City, then spreading to other settlements in New France.

Shortly after the conquest of New France by the British, the only schools instructing in English were a few set up by church groups, for religious instruction. It was not until after the War of 1812 that pioneer logcabin schoolhouses began to mushroom.

In this period, there were only a few hundred people in all Canada educated beyond the primary school level. Canada's first English-language university was King's College, founded in Windsor, N.S., 1788. It was restricted to Church of England (Anglican) pupils. Students were expelled if caught attending a Roman Catholic or Presbyterian service, or other "rebellious or seditious meeting".

A similar King's College was established in Fredericton in 1828, and Anglican Archdeacon John Strachan received a charter for a King's College in Toronto. He hoped to establish an Anglican monopoly over education in all Upper Canada, but was thwarted by a Methodist, Egerton Ryerson. The Methodists founded Victoria College and the Presbyterians started Queen's University in 1841.

Laval, founded in Quebec City in 1852, was Canada's first French-language university, under Roman Catholic control.

Chief among the early non-denominational universities were Dalhousie at Halifax, 1818; McGill at Montreal, 1821; and University of Toronto, 1841.

The Fathers of Confederation, in the BNA Act, put education under the jurisdiction of provincial governments, ensuring higher educational standards. As for separate schools, it was decided that minorities would retain rights held prior to federation, and the provinces would determine any further concessions.

This issue came to a head in 1890 in Manitoba, when the provincial government withdrew financial support from Roman Catholic schools. Catholics protested that they had been guaranteed separate schools by the Manitoba School Act of 1871. Wilfrid Laurier finally brought about a compromise, offering optional religious instructions after school hours.

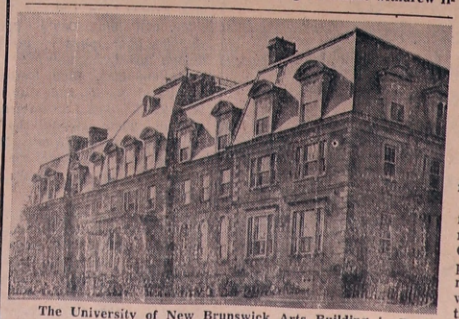
Egerton Ryerson, named superintendent of education for Upper Canada, 1841, architected an education system which served as a blueprint for all Canada. He added new subjects to the curriculum, and introduced free compulsory education.

Today separate schools continue to thrive in four provinces: Alberta, Saskatchewan, Ontario and Quebec, supported by local taxation. In Newfoundland, almost all schools are administered by religious groups, but supported by provincial grants.

Present denominational schools, including universities, continue to play a significant part in the education of Canadian youth, but generally speaking, the trend is toward separating religion from education.

And as we approach the Centennial of Confederation, we can boast of an education system that is second to none in the world. However, education remains the greatest challenge facing Canadians.

The world is in flux, and the next century will spawn an even more complex society. Whether Canada maintains its place of prominence with the other great nations will depend chiefly on what will happen tomorrow in the classrooms across our country.



The University of New Brunswick Arts Building in Fredericton is the oldest college still standing in Canada, its structure completed in 1829.

Nutritious Cheese Good Protein Source

A normal diet will usually provide adequate amounts of all the necessary nutrients: vitamins, fat, protein, minerals and carbohydrates. Meals should be planned so that the amount of any nutrient is not too much above or below the requirement for good health.

Protein is required for two reasons: to build up new tissues in growing children, and to repair and restore tissues in people of all ages. Thus there are times in a person's life when protein is needed in more than the usual amounts, for instance, during childhood and pregnancy.

What are recommended sources of protein? Home Economists at Macdonald Institute, University of Guelph, classify these sources in two groups: vegetable proteins such as peas, beans, and cereal foods, and animal proteins such as meat, fish, eggs and poultry. To obtain the best balance of protein in the diet, a mixture of the two types should be served at every meal.

On a pound-for-pound basis, cheese contains more protein than other main body-building foods such as meat or eggs. This is because it contains, in a very concentrated form, most of the nutrients found in cow's milk. In fact, it takes a full gallon of full cream milk to make one pound of cheddar cheese. Cheese is also one of the richest sources of calcium, the mineral that builds bones and teeth. Cheese contains Vitamin A, and the B-Vitamin riboflavin, making cheese a food product that is almost complete in itself. A meal of bread, butter, cheese, and tomato is an ideal combination, since all nutrients required by the body are present.

An Open Letter To A Discouraged Youngster

Dear Kid:

Today you came to me for a job. From the look of your shoulders as you walked out, I suspect you've been turned down before, and maybe you believe by now that kids out of high school can't find work.

But I hired a teenager today. You saw him. He was the one with polished shoes and a necktie. What was so special about him? Not experience, neither of you had any. It was his atitude that put him on the payroll instead of you. Attitude, son, A-T-T-I-T-U-D-E. He wanted that job badly enough to shuck the leather jacket, get a haircut, and look in the phone book to find out what this company makes. He did his best to impress me. That's where he edged you out.

You see, Kid, people who hire people aren't "with" a lot of things. We know more about Bing than about Ringo, and we have Stone-Age ideas about who owes whom a living. Maybe that makes us prehistoric, but there's nothing wrong with the cheques we sign.

Ever hear of "empathy"? It's the trick of seeing the other fellow's side of things. I couldn't have cared less that you're behind in your car payments. That's your problem. What I needed was someone who'd go out in the plant, keep his eyes open, and work for me like he'd work for himself. If you have even the vaguest idea of what I'm trying to say, let it show the next time you ask for a job. You'll be head and shoulders over the rest.

You know, Kid, men have always had to get a job like you get a girl: Case the situation, wear a clean shirt, and try to appear reasonably willing. Maybe jobs aren't as plentiful right now, but a lot of us can remember when master craftsmen, contractors, architects, engineers and many others walked the streets. By comparison, you don't know the meaning of "scarce".

You may not believe it, but all around you employers are looking for young men and women smart enough to go after a job in the old fashioned way. When they find one, they can't wait to unload some of their worries on him.

For both our sakes, get eager, will you?

Drainage Job Is Largest In Ontario

A tile drainage project underway at Longstaff Farms in Ameliasburgh Township is believed to be the biggest such projject at the present time in Ontario.

The farm, owned by retired Toronto industrialist J. R. Longstaffe, specializes in raising Hereford beef cattle, and the project involves laying close to 20 miles of clay tile, comprising 110,000 red clay tiles of various sizes.

The job involves draining 150 acres of low land on the farm and will cost about $25,000. Contractor is Richmond Ditching Co. of Selby, near Napanee, and the supervisor, Herman Geenevasen, who learned his business in the Netherlands, estimates the job will take about five weeks.

The result of the project will be a two-week earlier than normal start in spring, which will increase the productivity by making its workability competitive with land drained normally. The tiles are laid carefully with the level all along checked by a transit to make sure they will drain into the natural drainage basins surrounding.

It is one of several such projects undertaken across Prince Edward County under a special program to encourage tile drainage supported by both provincial and federal governments.

An application for such a project requires a special bylaw from the township council, which advances 75 per cent of the required cost. The province then reimburses the township by purchasing the debentures and the applicant pays the money back over a 10-year period at four per cent interest.

Are Bridegrooms Forgotten Men?

Editor's note — The following article is reprinted from a recent issue of the Tweed News.

Read the majority of wedding write-ups, and you will be told about this and that worn by the bride and by the bride's mother, but for the life of us we cannot recall a wedding report where the groom and the groom's father got much more mention than a scanty couple of lines, if they were lucky.

We feel this should be changed, and for the guidance of reporters covering future weddings in their home town, we are so bold as to offer the following outline, which may be changed from time to time as the names dictate.

"Jack Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Jones of Peterson's Corner, became the bridegroom of Miss Elizabeth Smith-Allan, at high noon today. The ceremony took place in Doomsday Church, where a full house was counted. Mr. Jones was attended by his school chum, Bill Brown, who was groomsman.

As the groom approached the altar on the arm of his mother, he was the centre of all admiring eyes. Blushing prettily he replied to the clergyman's questions in low but firm tones.

He was charmingly clad in a three-piece suit consisting of a coat, vest and pants. The coat of dark material was draped around the shoulders and tastefully gathered under the arms. It was, in fact, the same coat as that worn by his father and grandfather on their wedding days. The vest was sleeveless, in contrasting color, and was fastened down the front by a row of small buttons. It was gracefully fashioned with four pockets in front, and gathered with a trap and a buckle at the back. Conspicuous on the front of the vest was the groom's lodge pin, the bride's gift to the groom, which gave the needed touch of brilliance to a costume in perfect taste and harmony.

The groom's pants were of dark grey serge, with black contrasting vertical stripes suspended from the waist and falling in a straight line almost to the floor. The severe simplicity of the garment was emphasized by just a provocative glimpse of stretchy socks, above black leather shoes laced with cotton laces of the same color. All making for a rather chic effect.

Beneath the vest, the groom wore a pair of blue suspenders, attached to the pants, fore and aft, and passing in a graceful curve over each shoulder. This pretty and useful part of the groom's costume would have passed unnoticed had not the groom muffled the ring when the groomsman was passing it to him. When he stooped to receive the errant circlet the charming blue suspenders were prettily revealed.

His neck was encircled by a winged collar with just a delicate hint of the old-fashioned celluloid design, and around the collar was a loosely knotted cravat exposing a collar button of seed pearl.

Mr. Brown's costume was essentially like that of the groom's and as the two stood at the altar a hush of admiration enveloped the guests at sight of the wonderful harmony of their raiment. Actually they could hardly, have been told one from the other, had it not been for the Band-Aid worn by the groom to cover the place on his chin, where he had nicked himself with a safety razor. Neither Mr. Jones nor Mr. Brown wore a hat at the ceremony.

As the bride led the groom down the aide following the nuptials, it was noted, by some, that she was wearing the conventional veil and orange blossoms in addition to the usual things worn by ladies of her age.

The house cat is believed to be a cross between the sacred cat of Egypt and the European wildcat.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM D ONALD ANGOVE

ANGOVE - FINKLE WEDDING

Rev. W. H. V. Walker, assisted by Marvin Mountney, officiated at the July double-ring wedding ceremony at St. Paul's United Church, Stirling, when Nancy Joy Finkle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Finkle, Stirling, was united in marriage to William Donald Angove, son of Mrs. Phyllis Angove, of Belleville.

Mrs. Harold West rendered the traditional wedding music and the soloists were Miss Judy Patterson and Miss Sue Ann Bastedo.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a bridal gown in crystal crepe with an empire waistline effect created by an overlay of crepe edged with fine Guipure lace forming a capelet over the short sleeve effect. The gown featured a scoop neckline and a detachable train falling from below the back capelet; and the train was appliqued with lace matching that of the gown. The bridal headpiece was a Juliette cap with overall lace and seed pearls. The cap was attached to a three-tiered nylon illusion shoulder-length veil.

The maid of honour, Miss Jacqueline Finkle, sister of the bride, and bridesmaid, Miss Saundra Angove, sister of the bridegroom, and flower girl, Miss Kathryn Finkle, sister of the bride, were all identically gowned. They wore matching floor-length empire-waist gowns of mint green chiffon over taffeta, and carried nosegays of white shastas.

Attending the bridegroom was Robert Kiser; and the ushers were Guy Quance and Eugene Bristow.

The wedding reception was held at the reception room of the church parlor, where the mother of the bride received the guests in a blue linen dress with matching blue lace long sleeves and trim. Pink and white accessories were complemented by a corsage of pink roses and white 'mums.

The mother of the bridegroom chose a pink linen dress with a pink lace overcoat and pink and white accessories, completed by a corsage of pink roses and white' mums.

For the wedding trip to points west, the bride donned a yellow lace linen sleeveless dress with matching hat and patent leather accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid.

Upon their return, the couple will reside at 119 Bridge Street West in Belleville.

River Valley W.I.

On August 1st, River Valley Women's Institute convened at the School House for their annual Home Economics meeting. There were sixteen members, one visitor and nine preschool children in attendance.

The 4-H Club leader, Mrs. Roy Irven, and her assistant, Mrs. Gerald Brooks, and the Club girls had a wonderful display of posters, record books, hats, etc.

Jane Bush, dressed in a Chinese kimona, gave the commentary on the project "Come Dine in China" by River Valley Centennial Chefs. The various customs stressed that the group sit on the floor beside a round table with no tablecloth. Ivory chop sticks and steam towels are featured. The menu starts with soup. There are several meat dishes, hardly any dessert with tea the universal dish.

The second project was on the theme "Details Are Important", by River Valley Thread Gang. Mrs. Gerald Brooks, Mrs. Glenn Bush, Mrs. Glenn Bennett and the Club girls, Connie Tucker, Joyce Carr, Susan Bush, Jane Bush, Judy Donohoe, Judy Bush and Trudy Bush, stressed cleanliness, neatness, hats, extras, such as purse and shoes, gloves, scarves and good posture.

The new Fall project is "Featuring Fruit".

The roll call, on the theme "My Idea of What 4-H Girls Clubs Accomplish", showed the value of this work and the leaders received an ovation for their part in training the girls.

Mrs. Ernest Carr read the account of the June meeting; also the July picnic at Oak Lake.

Mrs. J. L. Donohoe gave the financial report and the recent barn sale was very successful.

Mrs. Roy Tucker gathered the "Pennies for Friendship". In her A.C.W.W. report, she read from the recent Countrywoman magazine that the farm women in the United States will spend one hundred and thirty thousand dollars as they welcome the Associated Country Women of the World at Michigan State University campus on September 3rd to 14th. The registered delegates will pay eighty thousand dollars and the American farm women's organizations are raising the balance of fifty thousand dollars. It is expected to have five thousand guests.

Mrs. Glenn Bush reported that forty-one children were enrolled in the swimming classes at Belleville and are transported by bus.

The special awards night is scheduled for Wednesday, August 7th at the School House.

The summer Home and Country magazines were distributed and the meeting closed with the Institute Grace.

The lunch committee, Mrs. Ernest Carr, Mrs. Alex Bush, Mrs. Ross Holland and Mrs. Philip Conley furnished a variety of sandwiches and relishes and Mrs. Ross Bush voiced appreciative thanks to all who had assisted with the meeting.

OF MANY THINGS

By Ambrose Hills

A STUDY IN NOSTALGIA

After taking up farming here on Greenhorn Farm in the Fraser Valley I was offered the opportunity to do a daily broadcast. The radio station is only a four-minute drive from our farm, so I took it on, and started to look for material. The experience has been surprising.

At first, I received many telephone calls and letters. They were almost exclusively from farmers who enjoyed hearing of my adventures as a greenhorn at the business. They laughed about my mistakes and confessed to having made similar ones themselves. In a month or two, however, because I had been digging up a great deal of information from neighboring farmers, the department of agriculture, and companies which deal in agricultural supplies, I began to get inquiries about fertilizers, herbicides, feeds and the like, and it was good for my ego.

Then, strangely enough, letters started to come from Vancouver, the closest metropolis. One woman sent me a most nostalgic letter about her own childhood on the farm, and listening to me had brought back to her many fond memories of how things used to be on the farm when she was a girl. I read her letter on the air, and that started it all. Several other listeners sent me similar letters, and I kept reading the good ones on the air. Today, if I wished, I would not need to do a bit of preparations, but could compose my program almost completely from the nostalgic letters written by City listeners who once lived on the farm, or in small towns surrounded by farms.

Last week, at the request of one listener, I did a little interview with The Leghorn Girls, direct from my hen house. I persented our six Leghorn hens as a brand new radio group. In the process I told about the one little Banty that always refuses to be fed unless direct from my hand.

How deeply imbedded in the minds of farm children must be the cackle of hens in the morning and the cockle-doodle-do of a rooster! Immediately The Leghorn Girls became a hit in our nearby city of Vancouver. Two carloads came all the way out to the farm, just to have a look at the little Banty who must be fed by hand. One quite sophisticated dowager type actually had tears in her eyes as she poked around in our hen house and fed the banty from her plump, bejewelled hand. Later, over coffee in comfortable farm kitchen, she declared that she was determined to have a couple of hens in her back yard some day. I have driven through the posh area in which she lives, and can imagine the furore it will create if the neighbours are awakened at daylight by the cackle of white Leghorns!

She'll probably do it, though. And I'd hate to be on the city council that tries to stop here!

THE BIBLE TODAY

Among six persons who died during the Vietcong's New Year attacks on Ban Me Thuot in the central highlands of Vietnam was the Rev. N. Robert Ziemer, principal translator of the Rad'e (pronounced Rah-day) New Testament. Rad'e is the language of more than 120,000 tribal people in Central Vietnam.

Six men sought to serve God in a war-torn land paid for their dedication with their lives. All members of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, these missionaries were in the mission compound at the time of the raids.

It is not clear at this time what the death of Mr. Ziemer will mean to the future of the Rad'e translation of the rest of the Old Testament. While Mr. Ziemer has worked on the translation of the New Testament since the late 1940's, the Old Testament was not completed. Manuscripts of parts of the Old Testament in various stages of completion have been rescued from the rubble of Mr. Ziemer's house. Some of these are badly damaged, others still usable.

The Rev. Ted Cline of Hamilton, Ontario, is the Executive Secretary for the Bible Society in Vietnam, with headquarters in Saigon.

Mrs. Pollard was a member of the Frankford United Church.

Invention Shows Area Beneath Car

The "Ulster Commentary" reports that a Northern Irishman has invented a device which may be a potent factor in reducing accidents involving children who play around parked vehicles.

It is called the Unimec underdoor safety vision screen and was invented by Austen Orr, of Conaghadee, Northern Ireland.

It can be fitted to nearly every make of commercial vehicle and enables drivers, before moving off, to see that there are no children under their vehicles.

The mirror screen measures only 18 inches by four and the act of the driver taking his seat lowers it to give him a clear and unobstructed view of the under-side of the vehicle and its four wheels.

Depression of a foot lever returns the mirror to the protective shell in which it is normally concealed to keep it free of dust and grime..

Hubble Reunion

ery, Mrs. Ernest Hubble and Mrs. Horace McMurter.

President's Message

Mrs. MacMullen said in her message that: Today we pay tribute to Nehemiah Hubble and his wife, Lucinda Welton, who were the first settlers at Hubble Hill in 1784-85. She said: We are grateful to Lorne and Luella Hubble, who were the founders of the first Hubble Reunion in 1950. She read the story of the United Empire Loyalists who were forced to leave New York with their wives and possessions, owing to the War of Independence.

Nehemiah Hubble and his brother, Barce, were the first settlers at "Hubble Hill' in Rawdon Township. These men had served several years in The King's Royal Regiment of New York State. Later other Loyalists arrived.

About 1800 all that is now known as the Mount Pleasant community was an unbroken forest with numerous maple trees. Much of the area was a wilderness with paths through the forest from one settler's home to another and there were only a few roads. These pioneer people had courage, faith, determination and a firm trust in God when they ventured into an unknown part and tamed the wilderness. They stood firm in the face of hardship. They shared labour in various ways with their neighbours and above all they laid the cornerstone of our prosperity in 1968.

They built log houses and log schools and they studied the Bible in various homes until such time as they could build churches. Thus, these pioneers, heart soul and hand, engraved their mark upon this land.

In 1871, there were fifteen Hubble families residing in the Mount Pleasant area from Rawdon Seymour boundary to Anson Junction. They included Big Myer, Little Myer, Peter, Big Reuben, Little Reuben, Courtland, Sanford, Frank, George, John, James, Joshua, Ira, Ezekiel and Hezebiah.

Today, there are descendants of Nehemiah Hubble living in many parts of the province. Some have returned to the United States and others have travelled to various provinces in Canada. The writer is a direct descendant of Nehemiah. One of his granddaughters was her grandmother, the late Huldah Hubble Wescott.

The group enjoyed a social hour of reminiscing and while the number in attendance was not large the reunion each year provides an opportunity to enjoy a friendly chat.

The Clan Reunion of 1968 has now entered history and Mrs. MacMullen deeply appreciated all the kind co-operation given to her during the past four years that she has served as president.

Stan Olsansky Has Developed Taxidermy Hobby To Full Time

(by Stephen Patrick)

Taxidermy is an art as old as mankind. Early man had to know how to treat animal pelts so they could serve as clothing. He tanned the rough pelts and transformed the hide into the first shoes. Skins were treated to preserve them for ceremonial rites. Later, the Egyptians mummified their pharoahs. Out of such beginnings rose taxidermy.

Stan Olsansky, who runs Stirling Taxidermy, had his first experience with this art in the States. Before he was able to obtain a license that would enable him to practice, he had to obtain a diploma in Taxidermy at the Northwestern School of Taxidermy in Omaha. Afterwards, Mr. Olsansky practiced in Illinois and Wisconsin while studying forestry.

A taxidermist must be a combination artist, carpenter, veterinarian and sculptor. The artist is responsible for the final painting and arranging of the subject; the carpenter handles mounting and takes care of the taxidermist's many tools; the veterinarian keeps an eye open for rabid or diseased animals (Mr. Olsansky takes the precaution of advising people not to retrieve foxes, as these animals are especially prone to rabies); and the sculptor must handle the shaping of the bodies and construction of the molds. Mr. Olsansky has some very realistic head molds that he made, himself, out of paper mache'. The head bones of the animals are removed, and a molded replica is inserted.

Taxidermy is tedious work. Dealing with a fish as an example, these are the steps involved: the skin must be removed in its entirety and cleaned of grease and flesh. The skin is tanned. A lightweight styrofoam body is made and the tanned skin is carefully sewn onto this. The body may be made in any of several positions: straight position, fighting position, curved position. After the skin has been sewed and glued onto the body, the fins are repaired and reinforced. Then the taxidermist goes to work on the head and eyes. The fish is mounted and painted. Mr. Olsansky has carried out this procedure on all species of fish from a household goldfish to a 1500 pound shark. He was currently working on a 45 inch 27 pound muskellunge at the time this article was written.

But fish are not the only type of animal that Mr. Olsansky is familiar with in his work. Stan has experience with all kinds of animals. Taxidermy is a seasonal business. There are plenty of fish to mount in the summer and fall, ducks and pheasants in the fall, and deer heads and bear rugs to prepare in the winter. Stan has even mounted a water buffalo and a tiger.

Although Stan tries to keep his prices as low as possible so people can afford to have taxidermy work done for them, he knows that some people are dissillusioned at the seemingly high charge. For fish he charges $1.00 per inch. If you think this is high, reconsider all those steps involved. Ducks vary from $12.50 to $18.00, and geese from $20. to $25. It takes great skill to skin a fowl, keeping all the plumage clean and intact. One main difference between fish and birds (in regard to taxidermy) is that the fish require a wet preservative process, and birds a dry one.

Mr. Olsansky extended his business this April to include chinchilla ranching.

Beginning with an initial investment of $2000. and starting with 8 chinchillas, Stan now has the population up to 22. The chinchillas are a hardy rodenlike animal, and very cute. They are kept in a temperature controlled environment until the age of anywhere from 6 months to one year, when their pelts are fixed and sent to fur auctions, where a single pelt may bring as much as $60.00.

Mr. Olsansky hopes to have a large taxidermy shop equipped for his growing populance of chinchillas.

Holloway Young Peoples Softball Team Winners Rod Webb Trophy

(By Bob Taylor)

Holloway Young Peoples Softball Team captured the Stirling Young Peoples' Invitational Softball Tournament, played at the local diamond, on Saturday. Holloway compiled victories over Foxboro, Harmony and the defending champions, Ivanhoe, in the day-long double elimination tourney.

Harmony 13
Stirling 12

The tournament got underway at 10 a.m. as Harmony, behind the strong pitching of Sandra Claus, tripped Stirling by a narrow 13-12 count. Sandra Claus helped her own cause, connecting for a pair of home runs off Stirling pitcher, Linda Bateman.

Harrison also had a round-tripper for the winners, while Shoni Wannamaker picked up a three-run homer for the losers.

Holloway 11
Foxboro 10

Holloway, aided by two clutch defensive plays in the bottom of the seventh, slipped by an evenly matched Foxboro team 11-10 in a see-saw battle that saw Shirley Cooney out-duel Carolyn Lewis for the pitching triumph. Ronnie Cummings blasted a brace of homers for the winners with Bob Taylor and Doug. Smith making rouhd trips. Barry Dafoe, Karen Dafoe and Danny Stewart replied for Foxboro.

Ivanhoe 7
Harmony 6

Muriel Nicholson pitched Ivanhoe to the third successive 1-run decision in a 1.00 o'clock tilt with Harmony ending up on top of a 7-6 verdict.

Sandra Claus toiled in defeat, giving up homers to Bob Spencer and Wayne Cummings, while picking up a homer herself for a total of 3.

Stirling 15
Foxboro 11

Lois Georgerat, Shoni Wannamaker and Elwood Moore swatted home runs as they backed Linda Bateman to a 15-11 decision over Foxboro, eliminating the losers from the tourney. Carolyn Lewis and Karen Dafoe toiled for the losers with Barry Dafoe and catcher Danny Stewart contributing homers.

Harmony 15
Holloway 11

Sandra Claus befuddled her opponents, striking out seven as Harmony remained in contention, downing Holloway 155-11. Holloway's Ron Cummings hit the only homer of the game, his third of the day. Shirley Cooney, despite stopping a line-drive with her right arm, toiled the complete game for the losers.

Ivanhoe 15
Stirling 14

Ivanhoe jumped into a 9-0 first inning lead off Stirling pitcher, Carolyn Patrick, before Linda Bateman came on to extinguish the onslaught.

The Stirling crew fought back in the late innings but failed to overtake the defending champions. Muriel Nicholson pitched the win, eliminating the host team. Wayne Cummings swatted a brace of homers for the winners.

Holloway 17
Harmony 9

Holloway were never threatened as they eliminated Harmony in the return match, behind solid pitching from Shirley Cooney. Ann Emerson took the loss, giving up two homers to Bruce Roth and Ron McCrory.

FINAL GAME

Holloway 21

Holloway picked up where they left off against Harmony and jumped into an early commanding lead. Shortstop Bob Taylor, left-fielder Bruce Roth, centre fielder Ron Cummings and catcher Doug. Smith belted homers off losing pitcher Muriel Nicholson before giving way to Jeannie Miller in the seventh.

Shirley Cooney gave up one homer to Bob Spencer, pitching her fourth complete game to celebrate her 21st birthday.

Ivanhoe, before the game undefeated, declined their right for the double elimination and declared winner take all, giving Holloway a decided advantage.

First Stirling casualty reported in the Sicilian campaign is Pte. Alvin John Stoneburg.

At a business meeting of St. Andrew's Choir, Mrs. Chas. Fargey was chosen as President.

One thousand and forty feet of sound lumber was sawn from a pine tree belonging to Ross Dafoe, of Chatterton, recently, according to Russell Stapley, of Madoc Junction, who operates a saw mill. The tree measured 36 inches across the butt and was eighty feet high.

At the regular meeting of Rawdon Township Council the tax rate for the current year was set at 24 mills.

Forsythe — Vanderkooy

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Stirling, was the setting for the July wedding, when Mary Vanderkooy became the bride of Donald Thomas Forsythe. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Vanderkooy, Stirling, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Forsythe, R.R. 1, Corbyville. Rev. Stanley Gentle, Belleville, was the officiating clergyman. The traditional wedding music was rendered by Mrs. Brown and the soloist was Mrs. Linda Floud.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length white satin A-line gown with a slight train. It featured a French embroidered waistline, lily point sleeves, scooped neckline and a bow at the back. Her four tier veil was held in place with a white orchid and she carried a bouquet of deep rose and white rosebuds on a white Bible with white streamers.

The matron of honour, Mrs. Joan Roe, wore a floor-length floral chiffon over yellow taffeta gown with a scooped neckline, and her headpiece was a bandeau of yellow and white miniature flowers, and she carried a nosegay of yellow and white shaded chrysanthemums with yellow ribbon. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Sandra Forsythe and Miss Gerda Vanderkooy were dressed the same as the matron of honour with the exception their dresses were pink and they carried nosegays of pink and white chrysanthemums with pink ribbons.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Kenneth Forsythe, while the ushers were Patrick O'Connor, Corbyville, and John Tweedy, Cannifton.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, on Rodgers Drive, Stirling, where Mrs. Vanderkooy received the guests. She wore an ensemble of light rust with beige accessories and a gardenia corsage. The bridegroom's mother assisted wearing tangerine shantung dress with flowered nylon overcoat with tangerine accessories and a white gardenia corsage. Also in the receiving line were T. Peacock, 90-year-old grandfather of the bridegroom, and Clarence Vanderkooy, the Netherlands, uncle of the bride.

For a wedding trip to points north, the bride chose a pink linen dress with white lace coat, pink accessories and a corsage of pink and white roses. They will take up residence in Corbyville when they return.

MR. AND MRS. DOUGLAS HAROLD BIRD

BIRD -- WHITE WEDDING

St. Paul's United Church Stirling, was the setting of the recent wedding when Rev. Hobbs united in marriage Brenda Joanna White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ron White, of R.R. 3, Frankford to Douglas Harold Bird, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bird of Stirling. Appropriate wedding music was rendered by Mrs. Grace Brown; and the soloist for the ceremony was Mrs. Judy Sarles.

The bride, given in mariage by her father, wore a floor length pure silk organza over nylon taffeta gown in empire-style with an A-line skirt and bell shaped sleeves. The waistline was accented with venice lace; and a full length train extending from the waist was also trimmed in venise lace. The floral headdress was caught to a shoulder length veil; and she carried a bouquet of pink sweetheart roses.

Maid of honor, Miss Carol Hague wore a turquoise empire-line gown with a flowing back and accented by a wide band of venise lace. Bridesmaids, Mrs. Joyce Reid and Mrs. Cheryl Vandervoort were dressed identical to the maid of honor. They all carried crescents of white and blue tinted 'mums. Flower girl was Miss Angela Bird. She wore a full length white dress, similar in style to the bridesmaids, with a circlet of turquoise flowers in her hair. She carried a nosegay of baby's breath and blue and white 'mums.

Attending the bridegroom was Allan Bird; and the ushers were John Noble and Michael Stanford.

The reception was held in the church parlors of St. Paul's United Church, where the mother of the bride received the guests in a pink shantung ensemble with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses and white carnations. Assisting her, the mother of the bridegroom was attired in a yellow crepe sheath with a matching lace coat. Yellow and white accessories and a corsage of bronze 'mums completed her ensemble.

For the wedding trip to the Adirondack Mountains, the bride chose a turquoise shantung dress with an A-line skirt which was gathered in the back. She also wore a matchihg hat, complementing white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Look what an important month August has been. Columbus sailed from Spain in August 1492. Talking motion pictures were shown for the first time in New York City in August 1926. The first message by Atlantic cable was sent in August 1858. World War 1 began in August 1914. World War 11 ended in August 1945. The Red Cross was established at Geneva, Switzerland in August 1864. The world's first Long Distance telephone call was made August 10, 1876 between Brantford and Paris, Ontario.

August 18 this year sees the introduction of Econo-Pak service which offers a package of Long Distance calling to individual line residence customers. This new service provides 60 minutes of Long Distance calls a month from your telephone to any number of points that you might wish to call within your home province provided that they are served by Bell Canada dial telephones. Charge for the total 60 minutes is only $10. All calls will be timed on a per minute basis. Econo-Pak service rates are available between 12 noon and 8 p.m. any day in the week. My "spies" are at work again and word they are sending back from visits to Man and His World in Montreal glow with enthusiasm. It's Expo without the jostling crowds but all the sparkle and world-in-miniature interest of last year. Two of the more eye-catching buildings have changed character inside this year. The former British Pavilion, now topped by a gigantic flag of Montreal, features the Music Belfry and has become a meeting-place for music lovers. The other section of the building has become Cars of Yesteryear where exhibits pay tribute to the pioneers of the automobile. The 20-storey geodesic bubble which last year housed the American exhibit has been transformed into a fascinating aviary and garden area - - really, an exotic indoor park. Some 800 birds of 150 different species are housed in enormous cages. In fact, in one section, visitors walk into a tropical garden to be greetel by flamingoes, peacocks, toucan birds with their huge beaks, and dozens of other brilliantly colored birds from tropical lands.

Several new exhibits are fascinating visitors this year. The Humor Pavilion gives a fun-filled look at the lighter side of life: Dolls representing people from the five continents and the way they dress provide a lesson in history and is a veritable museum of man in the Mirror of Man Pavilion. The Telephone Pavilion now has two sections. Canada 67 brings back the thrilling Walt Disney Circle-Vision 360 film. The other section of the building is now Montreal 326 and recalls the 326th anniversary of the City of Montreal.

Poland and Ireland are two new participants in Man and His World. And for those who wish to relive Expo 67 there is a memorial pavilion where the great moments are remembered. A collection of flags of the participating countries, costumes worn by the hostesses of the various nation pavilions, slides, photos, reports and newspaper clippings are all there. Again this year Man and His World seems to be the place to visit for a comfortable, quick voyage around the world.

Don't Be A Litterbug — It Could Save You Money

Ontario's highways will be carrying hundreds of thousands of motorists to vacation and resort areas throughout the province - - and behind them they will leave thousands of tons of garbage, which will cost taxpayers over $700,000 to clean up.

In a stepped-up effort to keep Ontario's highways cleaner, the Department of Highways has launched an anti-litter campaign and has appealed for public support through the news media. Material will be supplied to newspapers, radio and television stations throughout the summer to make travellers aware of the waste of tax money and hazards involved in highway litter.

A summer drive in the country should be a pleasurable experience. But every year an increasing collection of broken bottles, cigarette packages, hot dog wrappers, orange peelings and any number of other items of junk are thrown out of car windows by unthinking motorists.

Most of the people who contribute to this "mess-up" would quickly pick up and debris found on their own front lawn. Yet the golden rule of aesthetics goes out the window with the rest of the garbage when their obvious self-interest is not involved.

It costs the Ontario Department of Highways more than $55 a mile in litter control alone to keep its 13,000 miles of King's Highways and Secondary Highways neat and attractive. During the major clean-up period, the six months between May and October that's an average exependiture of more than $3,800 every day.

Littering is becoming a more serious and costly problem with increased volumes of traffic on our roads and with the increase in disposable packaging and bottling.

The cost of combating this problem may well exceed $1,000,000 in the very near future unless people pitch in to help keep roads clean. In recent years an increasing number of motorists have been fined $50 under the Highway Traffic Act for littering.

The thoughtless littering of our roads can also affect our own safety as well as the safety of others. The hazards of broken glass on the highway is a potential cause of accidents through tire blow-outs or by causing motorists to swerve into the wrong traffic lane. Large pieces of paper may fly onto the windshield, momentarily obstructing the driver's vision and causing a panic situation on heavily travelled roads.

The Department of Highways maintain 280 picnic parks along the highways and sets out more than 1,500 roadside picnic tables every summer. Litter barrels are placed at each of these locations. If motorists just held on to their litter until they reached one of these areas, the Department could save thousands of dollars in taxpayers' money every year.

Campaigns for motorists to carry litter bags or containers in their car have had some effect in controling this problem and if more people would co-operate with public-spirited private companies and government departments who are taking part in this campaign, the result would benefit everyone.

As part of the anti-litter campaign the Department of Highways is providing free plastic litter bags which are available at all service centres on the province's two major freeways, Highway 401 and Highway 400.

THE BIBLE TODAY

The Christian Scriptures were printed and sent into Indonesia in recent years. Beides this a printing press was set up to print Testaments and Portions as required. But still the demand for God's Word could not be met.

Mass movements sweeping thousands of people into the Churches in Indonesia has drastically affected the situation. This Christian revival continues. The demand for Scriptures far exceeds the available supply.

In one part of Indonesia over 300,000 people have come into the the Churches in the past eighteen months, asking for baptism and for Bibles, or New Testaments.

On the nearby island of Timor there was also a movement, with thousands of people bringing their idols to be burnt, and receiving a copy of the Word of God in exchange Now there are no Scriptures left in Timor. People still bring their idols to be destroyed, however.

A first step to meet the shortage has been the placing of an order for 100,000 Indonesian Bibles. The Bible Society is asking for world-wide assistance to meet the cost of these Bibles.

School Buses

Certain municipalities in Ontario may be exempt from the school bus stopping law according to an amendment to Section 94 of the Highway Traffic Act.

Municipalities have a large part of the responsibility for the safety of children and they have many types of protective traffic control devices. The amendment empowers municipalities to assess the provision for flashing red lights on school buses, and the requirement of motorists to stop in relation to other safety measures and local conditions. Several municipalities have asked for this power.

The school bus stopping law applies only where the speed limit is greater than 35 miles per hour, but more and more municipal highways are being designed for those speeds.

The school bus stopping law itself is not changed, and the amendment does not change the responsibility of motorists from one community to another. When he sees a school bus flashing its red light in a zone over 35 m.p.h., he is required to stop; in a municipality that is exempt from this law, the red light will not be flashing.

(Mrs. Ellis Jones)

(Last Week)

Most of the community has taken advantage of the fair weather to attend Campbellford Fair.

Gerry and Eric Cranston, of Napanee, have been holidaying with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Anderson, for the past week. They were joined by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Doug. Cranston, on the week end.

Chrissie, Debbie and Lorie Anne Dooher, of Campbellford, spent last week with their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Thomson and family. Chrissie, Debbie and Karen Thomson also visited their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Spencer.

Mrs. Will Gray returned home recently from an extended stay with her daughter, Sylvia, and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Norman, Casserley, and family, at Loretta.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Stewart, Peterborough, spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Stewart, and grandfather, John Stewart.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Holland, of Havelock, were Sunday guests at the same home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Jones spent Sunday afternoon with their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Mumby, at Spring Brook. Mr. and Mrs. Mumby have recently returned from a trip to the West coast.

Carol Johnstone, of Campbellford, was a week end guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Finch, and sons. Her grandmother, Mrs. Mabel Beggs, of Campbellford, spent Monday with the Finch family.

Miss Priscilla Martin and John Duncan, of Toronto, were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul McKeown.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Finch entertained her grandmother, Mrs. Emma Bateman, and Mrs. Finch's brother, Murney Bateman, his wife and family, all of Spring Brook, at a birthday dinner on Sunday in honour of Mrs. Emma Bateman's 81st birthday. We also extend best wishes to this grand old lady.

Little Norma Meiklejohn, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Meiklejohn, severely injured her eye one day recently when she fell on some gravel. She was taken to Campbellford Hospital, but was transferred to Belleville Hospital when it was found she would need the care of a specialist.

Dont Let A Couple of Kids In A Car Distract You!

Driving has to be a full time job if you want to arrive safely at your holiday destination. A distracted driver is an "inattentive driver" and statistics show that inattentive driving is the major cause of accidents in all age groups. Last year in Ontario, at least 260 deaths were caused by inattentive driving and more than 36,000 people were injured. Your Ontario Department of Transport offers you the following tips to help you keep your attention on the job of driving. Avoid distraction from confusion within the car..... make sure passengers and luggage do not block your field of vision; from fatigue.....schedule regular stops along the way; and from indecision over routes and turn-offs..... ....plan your trip ahead of time and check all maps before you set out.

Dollars and Good Sense

This column is a regular weekly feature prepared by the family Financial Councelling Service of the Avco Delta Corporation, P.O. Box 2820, London, Ontario. All questions submitted to the above address will be answered, in print or by return mail. Names will not be used in print However, all questions should be accompanied by a complete name and address.

Dear Sir: How can I follow a budget; I don't even know how much my husband earns. He gives me a certain amount to buy food and run the house, and if I need more money for anything, I have to ask him for it. The way things are, I don't know whether I'm spending too much for this and not enough for that, or what.

ANSWER — Although I do not presume to be an authority on marriage, it seems to me your problem is much broader than just financial. Marriage is a partnership arrangement in which two people share their goals and aspirations, their pleasures and their plans. It would appear that under the circumstances you describe, your husband has made it impossible for you to share in these things, not to mention the decisions which are necessary in order to achieve family goals and aspirations.

It would seem to me that you and your husband need to reopen communications between you, first in the area of common goals. Where do you hope to go and how do you hope to get there? Should you be successful in this, it will be a lot easier to discuss the importance of sharing financial decisions.

Dear Sir: — I am a divorced mother who is working to support my family. We receive child support payments from the children's father, but I never know when they are going to arrive. He has always "paid up," but many times the payments have been two or three months late and then only after some prodding through the lawyer. How can I budget properly when I never know whether his payment is going to arrive on time? M.A.P.

ANSWER — There are two ways to approach this problem (other than more strict persuasion method which, perhaps, a lawyer or a court would recommend). The first is to plan your budget only on the basis of your assured income - - - that is, the money you yourself earn. This will require that you live less comfortably than you do with the help of support payments. But it is safer! In addition, when the payment arrives, you will be able to buy some of the "extras" that you've wanted, but had to do without. The second way is a little more onerous, but you may live a little better. That is to operate on a month-tomonth budget, avoiding long-range financial commitments like the plague. Plan each month on spending only the support payment you have in hand, plus the income from your job. Make up a new plan every month, depending on whether you have received the payment to which you are entitled.

Dear Mr. Martin: — You or nobody else can help me at this point, but I'll ask you anyhow. About six months ago we bought a few things we needed, on credit, and made our payments on time. Then we had an illness and our income was practically cut off. We should be out of the woods in a couple of months, but for now we've fallen behind in almost all our paymens. Now our creditors are really hounding us. I hate to answer the phone or the doorbell and I understand one or two of them have been calling at my husband's place of work. What can I do to get these people off my back. Please sign this - - - Bugged to Tears.

ANSWER — Perhaps I can still be of some small help to you, but you'll have to help yourself - - - and it might not be so easy on your pride. Nevertheless, what you absolutely must do, before taking any steps, is to visit each and every one of your creditors and explain your situation to them. Tell them you're sorry you avoided them, but you were embarrassed. Tell them you are not trying to avoid your financial obligations; that you want to pay your bills and get back on a steady basis, but that current circumstances make this impossible. Point to a good credit record (and I hope it is good) and to the fact that you were making payments regularly until trouble struck. I can practically guarantee that once these men are convinced that you are not trying to duck out of legal and legitimate obligations, they will work something out with you - - -partial payments; in some cases, perhaps, interest only payments. After all, they're businessmen. They'd rather collect something than nothing; rather be sure of eventually getting their money than having you be forced into bankruptcy.

The really big trouble starts when people fail to discuss their financial problems with their creditors. You found that out - - - - and you can't blame them for wanting to get paid. Next, if for any reason this approach should fail (probably because you put it off too long), consider a debt consolidation loan. It may be your answer. And finally, don't let this happen to you again. During good times, remember that bad times may be just around the corner. Don't overspend, either your cash or your credit, and determine to put a little aside each payday to help out under emergency circumstances.

Government Urged To Make Full Use of Telecommunications Companies

The government was urged recently to make full use of Canada's telecommunications companies as the most economic and effective way of implementing a Canadian satellite communications system.

The recommendation was made in a brief presented to Postmaster General Eric Kierans, Minister-designate of the proposed federal department of communications, by the Trans-Canada Telephone System and CN-CP Telecommunications. The brief was in response to a Government White Paper on satellite communications issued in March.

The telecommunications companies said that if the government decided to establish a satellite corporation and participate in its ownership, "we are prepared to co-operate fully, and place our experience and resources at the service of the Canadian public."

Public interest demands that Canada's limited technical manpower and finances be used with the greatest possible economy and efficiency in developing a satellite system and assuring its proper integration with the terrestrial communications network, the brief continued. It stated that the telecommunications companies were able to make "a unique and valuable contribution in terms of experience, available facilities and skilled workers, together with specialized knowledge of requirements and technology."

It maintained, however, that the telecommunications companies' original proposal of May, 1967 to finance, build and operate a satellite system remained sound and economical, meeting the "test of public interest" without any expenditure of public funds.

Should the government decide on a joint satellite corporation, the brief recommended:

1. The corporation should be established under joint financial ownership, on an all-equity basis, with principal share allotments assigned to the government and the telecommunications companies. The general public might eventually be offered shares, but it should be recognized it might be many years before the corporation became a profitable entity.

2 Management of the corporation should rest with a board of directors selected on the basis of equity ownership.

3. The corporation should function as a wholesaler of satellite channels to the telecommunications companies and other major regulated users, using a ful satellite channel as the basic unit for rent.

4. Ownership of the system's facilities should be shared by the corporation and the principal users. The corporation would own the satellites and those earth stations directly associated with broadcasting would be owned by the broadcasters or the government department involved.

5. The terrestrial communications network, including connecting equipment in the principal earth stations, should continue to be owned and operated by the telecommunications companies.

6. The telecommunications companies should co-ordinate the planning for provision and utilisation of facilities since the public already looks to them for over-all quality of communications services.

The brief stated that the telecommunications companies already have a $4 billion network in operation with facilities being added to the value of $500 million annually. They have the trained manpower and the research and manufacturing know-how which have provided Canadians with telecommunications services unsurpassed in the world in terms of quality, scope, value and innovation.

It pointed out that the economic justification for a domestic satellite system is its long-haul voice and data telecommunications capabilities together with TV distribution. But solely as a solution to the problem of arctic communications or TV distribution to remote areas, it would not be economically viable for many years.

"It is essential that the satellite and microwave systems be fully integrated," the brief stated.

Following is the third place winner in the Junior Division of the Stirling Chamber of Commerce "Keep Stirling Clean" competition.

LITTER BUG TOWN
(Connie Geen)

Some people buy gum and chocolate bars. When they eat them they throw the wrappers around. Then they are called litter bugs. One day when we went to school Mary threw a gum wrapper on the ground. The patrol saw her and told her to pick it up. Put the trash in your pocket or hang on to it until you get to a trash can. You can be thinking instead of littering the streets.

Sometimes a garbage can is knocked over by the dogs. Sometimes the wind blows and causes it to spread around the streets. In the ditches, careless drivers throw bottles and trash. Some people don't care about our town. If they did they would not throw them there. Nobody likes to drive through a dirty town. Let us all try to make Stirling clean and beautiful.

Milk Sales for Cheese Should Be Auctioned

Milk sales to cheese factories should be handled through auction, a committee studying the Ontario cheese industry was told recently.

J. D. Rossiter of J. M. Schneider Ltd., in Kitchener, told a committee meeting the auction system would make it easier for factories to control the volume of milk needed for cheese production.

The five-man committee, set up May 1st by the Ontario government, hopes to have a report on the problems within the cheese industry ready for Agriculture Minister William Stewart by October.

The committee has asked cheese buyers, producers and salesmen to prepare briefs on the industry and present them to the committee for study.

Dr. D. M. Irvine, of the University of Guelph dairy science department, representing Ontario speciality cheese producers, agreed with Mr. Rossiter and said the Ontario Milk Marketing Board had too much control over the supply of milk to cheese factories.

He said too much money was spent by the provincial and federal governments on promoting the export sales of cheddar cheese while specialty cheese get no promotion.

Trudeau Expands His Staff

The rapid expansion of his staff is posing a new problem for Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau — where to find enough offices, desks and telephones for everyone.

The Prime Minister released a list of his full staff and it contains 20 names, about twice as many people as employed by his predecessor, Lester Pearson. Several additional appointments are expected in the next few weeks.

Mr. Pearson normally had 10 to 12 people on his staff, but the total dropped to eight in the last months of his tenure.

Mr. Trudeau has sharply reversed the trend by reorganizing the Prime Minister's office into two staffs.

One, headed by principal secretary, Marc Lalonde, 39, a lawyer and one-time law professor in Montreal, has units responsible for policy advice, maintaining contact with individuals and organizations on a regional basis, initiation of policy advice and distibution of information.

The other, small staff is Mr. Trudeau's personal staff and is run by his executive assistant, Gordon Gibson, 30, former executive assistant to the Minister of Indian Affairs and Northern Development. This staff or section handles Mr. Trudeau's daily routine — appointments, travel, public engagements and correspondence.

Mr. Lalonde and Mr. Gibson both report directly to the prime minister.

In addition to his policy and personal staffs, Mr. Trudeau has the services and advice of a large civil service staff in the Privy Council office.

Troops To Remain In Europe

Defence Minister Leo Cadieux said recently that Canada has no intention of withdrawing its troops from Europe and intends to honour its commitments with West Germany.

He made the statement during an interview while touring Man and His World fair with West German Defence Minister Gerhard Schroeder.

Mr .Cadieux said there should be a review of Canadian defence commitments around the world "but there is no question of returning troops stationed in Germany at this time."

Mr. Cadieux said he and his German counterpart discussed the future of NATO and the Atlantic defence alliance.

Black Cars More Often In Accidents

A Swedish colour expert, Sigvard Viberg, surveyed with police help 31,000 auto collisions and found that black cars are up to 10 times as likely to be involved in accidents as lighter coloured autos.

Viberg found that pink was the safest colour, involved in only 2.4 per cent of the accidents.

Next to black, the most dangerous colours were all shades of brown and grey, reported Viberg. He believed that the dark and dull hues were more susceptible to collison because they are the hardest to pick out against the background of trees or buildings and the most difficult to perceive at dusk.

When Culture Came To The Rugged Land

(Fifteenth Of A Series)
By WALT McDAYTER

It is often bemoaned by Canadians that this country is a cultural wasteland, a nation born without an artistic soul.

This despite the fact that in every field of the performing and creative arts, Canada since Confederation has produced talents that have won acclaim the world over.

Countless canvases by Canadian artists hang in places of honor in such famed houses as the Louvre, London's Tate Gallery, and even Moscow's Museum of Modern Art. There have been many styles of expression, from the serene pastoral scenes of Horatio Walker, the experiments in colorism of James Wilson Morrice, the bright and bold techniques of the distinctively-Canadian Group of Seven and their stylized northern Ontario landscapes, to the expressive portraitures of F. H. Varley.

Charles G. D. Roberts has been called the "Father of Canadian Poetry." Roberts' best known work is "Orion and Other Poems," published in 1880, and it exerted tremendous influence on the verses of William W. Campbell, Archibald Lampman, and Bliss Carman. A contemporary poet with a growing following here and abroad is the dynamic Irving Layton.

There are few nations where readers have not delighted in the gentle humor of Stephen Leacock. King of Canadian humor before Leacock was Nova Scotia's mid-18th-century satirist, Thomas Chandler Haliburton, creator of Sam Slick.

In opera, tenor Edward Johnson became the rage of Europe around World War I, singing at the greatest opera house of all, La Scala, and later at New York's Metropolitan Opera Company, becoming its manager, 1935. More recently, brilliant soprano Teresa Stratas has won thundering ovations at La Scala and New York, as well as the Bolshoi.

In popular music, bandleaders such as Percy Faith, Guy Lombardo and Howard Cable have few equals. In jazz, there is Maynard Ferguson, Moe Koffman, and Oscar Peterson.

In the most modern medium of culture, movie films, Canada has provided some of the most famous faces appearing on the silver screen: Mary Pickford, Norma Shearer, Walter Pidgeon, Lorne Greene, Glenn Ford, Yvonne de Carlo, and Boris Karloff, to name but a few.

Canada is gaining a respected reputation in the making of movies as well. Private film companies are now launching feature movies, and the National Film Board, founded in 1936, has won more than 50 international awards, including a Hollywood Oscar and a first prize from the British Film Academy.

In the legitimate theatre, Canadian names have had top billing on many a marquee; Beatrice Lillie, hailed as the world's funniest woman; Christopher Plummer; Lloyd Bochner; and Kate Reid. And of course, a monument to Canadian theatre is the Stratford Shakespearean Festival, established in 1963.

We can boast of comedians John Wayne and Frank Shuster; pianist Glenn Gould; in ballet, David Adam and Lois Smith; and Yousuf Karsh, world's foremost portrait photogapher.

In every endeavor of the arts, Canadian stars have shone brilliantly. The tragedy is, however, too often these artists had to make their names on the international scene before they won the grudging applause of Canadian audiences.

A worthwhile Centennial project might be a concerted effort to teach Canadians to trust their own taste in art!

STIRLING FALL FAIR WEEK ISSUE

Local Merchants And Fair Board Co-operate to Boost Stirling Fair

Considering the number of small communities today who no longer have a Fair, Stirling and the surrounding community can be justly proud of the small group of people who work so hard to provide an agricultural show.

It is impossible, of course, for a small community to compete with neighbouring larger centres, who seem to have unlimited funds at their disposal. The local Fair Board and the exhibitors are to be highly commended for their efforts.

Western Games Competition

Again this year, the Fair is placing impetus on a different type of horse show and Western games, with racing, saddle and riding horses. This should prove most interesting.

There will, of course, be the usual large entries of the best in other livestock, vegetables, fruits, cooking and various craft work.

Co-Op Advertising

The merchants of the community have co-operated with this paper in providing advertising for Fair events, by supplying a News-Argus to every home in the area. The bargains in the stores are provided for our customers, not only on Fair Day, but for the entire week preceding.

These are truly good values, unlike sales in some communities. These prices are not marked up to give the customer the illusion of a sale.

Remember Stirling Fair is not merely a show by the Fair Board. It is a push and a boost for every person, whether in town or in the country. It is a community project.

Stirling Fair,
Saturday, August 31st

So come to Stirling during Fair Week and plan to attend the Fair on Saturday, August 31st.

Fair Week activities will wind up with a big dance for all ages at the Fair Grounds at night. Plan now to attend.

Junior Farmer Summer Exchange

Two Junior Farmers from British Columbia spent last week in this area. They were two of the delegates on the Ontario-British Columbia summer exchange. George (Al) Knipple was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Carlisle and Roger Davies visited with Mrs. Burton Heagle and Paul.

George Knipple, age 24, of Fort St. John, B.C., is in partnership on a 5½ quarter farm dealing in grain and beef cattle. He is presently involved in 4-H Club work in the capacity of leader and also holds the position of Vice-President of Local 822 Farmers Union, B.C.

Roger Davies, age 19, is in partnership on a 50 acre dairy farm. He has been a member of 4-H Clubs for the past 9 years in which time he has been awarded Junior and Senior Certificates, 4-H Honour Pin, 4-H Stockman Pin, Junior Leadership Certificate. He also attended 1964 Junior Leadership Workshop and was a 1967 National Delegate. At present, he is an Assistant Leader and Reporter for Senior Council in 4-H, and Vice-President of the Anglican Young Peoples Association in Mission.

Sentenced For Local Robbery

Two men were sentenced by Magistrate Batten at Cobourg Court on Thursday, August 15th, for possession of stolen goods from Wells Ford Mercury Sales Ltd., of Stirling, on June 19th.

John Robert Lamble, Toronto, age 23 years, received a four years' sentence and John Robert McGillawee, Toronto, age 25 years received five years.

Police Chief C. E. Hicks, of town, assisted in the investigation which led to their arrest.

Plant Produces Over Four Hundred Tomatoes

The unusual growth this season is displayed in Pearl Fraser's garden at 51 John Street, Stirling. One tomato plant of the Tom Thumb variety covers an area over 6' x 6'. It has more than 50 bunches of fruit, each containing about 8 tomatoes. They have just started to ripen and how much farther the plant will go will depend on the season's frost. This is one plant of five that was given to her, but the others only boast 15 or 20 tomatoes to a plant.

Funeral of Miss Florence Jane (Flossie) Rosebush

Following an illness of three years, Miss Florence Jane (Flossie) Rosebush, died in the Belleville General Hospital on Saturday, August 17th, 1968.

Miss Rosebush was born in Sidney township, 76 years ago, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Rosebush, and has resided in the Stirling district all of her life. She was a member of St. Paul's United Church in Stirling and a life member of the United Church Women. She was also a life member of the River Valley Women's Institute.

Surviving are two brothers, Ernest Rosebush, R.R. 3, Frankford, Norman Rosebush, R.R. 4, Stirling, and three sisters, Mrs. Roy (Bessie) Bush and Mrs. Philip (Gladys) Conley, both of R.R. 4, Stirling, and Mrs. Charles (Mabel) Conley, of Stirling.

Miss Rosebush rested at the Duffin-Hogle Funeral Home, Stirling. Service was held in the chapel on Tuesday, August 20th, at 1.30 p.m. Interment was in Stirling Cemetery, with Rev. Bruce Small officiating.

The pallbearers were Messrs. Ralph Utman, Garrett Bartels, Jack Sager, Ernest Carr, Jack Donohoe and Ken Morrow.

Stirling History Booklets Available

A number of the Stirling Centennial Souvenir History Booklets on Stirling are still available. This attractive eight-page booklet was the Centennial project of Mrs. Earl Luery and Mrs. Edwin Warren. All proceeds from the sale of these books are being turned over to Unit Four of St. Paul's United Church Women.

On the front cover is the beautiful elm tree which was a familiar landmark of Stirling for nearly a century.

The book gives a wealth of information on the history of Stirling, how it was named, when settled and much on the business and economic life past and present, in the Village.

Copies of this booklet, which sell for only fifty cents, are available from Mrs. Warren or at the News-Argus. Envelopes are provided for the books, which will make mailing to outof-town friends and relatives easy.

Linda Mayhew With Crossroads Africa Group

The following letter was received by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Shortt, R.R. 2, Stirling, from Miss Linda Mayhew, of Picton, and a former resident of this Village. She is a member of the Crossroads Africa team, serving this summer in Ethiopia. Linda is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. X. P. Mayhew.

"Here I am in Africa. I'm with a group of twelve — 3 Canadians, 8 Americans and 1 Ethiopian. We're living in Yugalem, a town of about 10,000. We're helping the villagers from Wicho, 18 kilometers from here, to plant trees for reforestation and next week we begin building a foot bridge. I am enjoying the summer very much so far and learning a great deal."

Geraldine McFaul Honoured

On Saturday, August 3rd, Miss Geraldine McFaul, a September bride-elect, was the guest of honour at a kitchen shower given by Mrs. Ralph Wellman, assisted by Mrs. Gerald Broadworth.

Twenty-four guests, many of them former classmates, were welcomed at the door by Linda Bell. Mrs. Hugh Hoard, Guelph, conducted two contests and helped each guest prepare her personal memento for the bride. "My Memories of Gerrie". Later, assisted by Joan and Barbara McFaul, the guest of honour unwrapped many lovely and useful gifts. A summer buffet, highlighted by a cake made by Geraldine's aunt, Mrs. Alex McFaul, Marmora, was served by the hostesses.

Miss McFaul thanked everyone for the lovely gifts and for such a lovely evening.

Senior Citizens Honour J. B. Belshaw

About forty Senior Citizens made whoopee last Thursday. We were happy to welcome some visitors. Mrs. Will Donald, of Toronto, and Alice Sjoquist, a cousin of the Heasman's, from Kamloops, B.C.

Our sympathy is extended to Florence Hough in the loss of her brother, Frank Linn, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. W. J. Whitty.

On August 20th, 1878, the stork flew over the late James Belshaw's home, in Rawdon, and dropped a son. They named him Buttimer and he must have made a good landing, for he's around here yet and still going strong. His two nieces, Bernice Rollins and Mabel Twiddy, caused Buttimer to smell the rat when they presented to him a beautiful birthday cake. To complete the happy day, his sister, Mrs. Charles Mumby, was present.

Several years after, the stork dumped four girls in this district, Flossie Geen, August 6th; Mina Smith, August 15th, and Blanche Reid, August 31st. Martha Wood preceded them in July. Best wishes to all.

Nature is kind to us. Our nose was put in just the right place to support our glasses. Our feet are placed at right angles so our shoes won't fall off and our legs are just long enough to reach the ground.

Mrs. W. J. Whitty Dies In Peterboro

Mrs. Eleanor Whitty died at the Kawartha Nursing Home, Peterboro, August 15th, 1968. Mrs. Whitty had been a patient at St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough, for a lengthy time, previous to going to the Kawartha Nursing Home.

Born in Stirling, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hough, she was the beloved wife of the late William J. Whitty, Stirling. Mrs. Whitty is survived by several nieces and nephews, a sister-in-law, Mrs. J. B. Hough, Stirling, and two brothers-in-law, Mr. Henry Tulloch, Stirling, and Mr. Felix Rashotte, Tweed.

Mrs. Whitty rested at the Duffus Funeral Home, Peterborough. Requiem Mass was held at Sacred Heart Church, Peterborough, on Friday, August 16th at 10.00 a.m. The recitation of the Rosary was held at the Duffin-Hogle Funeral Home, Stirling, on Friday evening at 9.00 p.m.

Interment was in St. James the Minor Cemetery, Stirling, Saturday, at 10.00 a.m. Rev. Father J. F. McGarvey said the graveside prayers.

Stirling Public Library Board Sets New Schedule of Rates

The Stirling Public Library is closed during this week and next, in order that the staff may have a vacation. During this time also, the refinished floor will receive its final coat. The newly decorated interior, the new lights and desk, plus the different shelving arrangement, make the library a place of comfort and distinction.

Before the new school arrangements, which become operative in September, all students attending the High School or Public Shool received library membership for .10c per year or less. This gave them access to a good reference section, to our special inter-library loans, and any extra-curricular reading they cared to do, all for .10c.

The actual per capita cost of library service in Stirling is $2.73, having gone up from $1.77 per capita in 1965 and from $2.19 in 1966. The Ontario average expenditure per capita is $3.24, although a low rating in this may indicate a poor library, rather than good budget management. The rising cost of books, express and postage accounts almost entirely for the increase in expenditures, and increased use of library and film services has necessitated employing a part-time assistant librarian. The recent capital improvements were budgeted for carefully over a period of time and do not represent a large or continuing use of funds.

For several decades, the membership rates to people who pay no Village taxes has been $1.50 per year. Stirling taxpayers are paying over $2.50 per year towards the maintenance of the library. Because of this obvious inequity displayed by these figures, because of the influx of 540 more pupils in our Public School, and because the High School students will still depend to quite some extent on reference service from the library, the Library Board feels that we must have a more realistic membership structure.

All of the large libraries have faced this changing situation some time ago, and it is even more necessary that the smaller ones do so.

Mr. B. Glendinning, of the Library Board, and the librarian approached Rawdon Township Council with a request for grant assistance and were courteously received. This Council gave the Library a grant of $150.00, which was greatly appreciated. The population of Rawdon is 2,052, making this a per capita grant of .7⅓c.

New Membership Rates

The Library Board proposes to change the membership rates as follows:

Membership cards to all Village residents — .10c.

All other school students — .25c per year.

All other membership — $2.00 per year.

Therefore, as of September 3rd, for the price of 2 or 3 paperbacks, any person not paying taxes to the Village of Stirling may read as many books as he wishes for $2.00 per year; any student may have full use of the Library for .25c a year, and the rates to all ages of Village residents will remain at .10c per card. The fines for overdue books will remain the same, with the same leniency extended to readers who reside outside of the Village and who may not always be able to be in at the time the Library is open.

In the week before holidays, 514 books were taken out by those readers who panic if there isn't a good book in the house. There are many very good novels and non-fiction books among our latest purchases. Happy Reading!

A small town paper can only be as interesting as those who are its subscribers will assist in making it, and it has only been possible for the News-Argus to continue through the co-operation and loyal support of advertisers, correspondents, subscribers and friends. To them, we wish to express our sincerest thanks and appreciation.

The News-Argus is proud of being eighty-nine years old, and earnestly asks for a continuance of the loyal support and patronage of all, both in the newspaper and commercial printing departments.

Pesticides — Bane or Boon?

Pesticide is a dirty word to many people today - a word that conjures up visions of sterile streams, lifeless woods and barren ground. To others, the word signifies the capability to produce crops and livestock more efficiently.

What is the real truth? It is somewhere in between. Without doubt, our world would be much shorter of food than it is if we did not have a great number of common pesticides to use in crop and livestock production. Equally certain is the fact that careless and uncontrolled use could produce the kind of barren environment that the gloom merchants talk about.

Pesticides include all those chemicals which we use to control weeds, insects, etc. in crops and animal production. But no pesticide should ever become a crutch to cover up for poor management, sloppy sanitation or careless farm operation.

Do we need to use so many sprays and chemicals that we didn't need a generation or two ago? Intensified farm production systems have upset the natural checks and balances on pests that always existed in nature.

Expanded transportation brings pests and disease to new areas. A generation ago, the farmer could afford to waste a percentage of his crop and market only the acceptable portion. Costs of production were lower in those days. Today every cent is important in the farm business.

It has been calculated that an annual expenditure in Canada of six million dollars on agricultural pesticides for control of weeds, insects and plant diseases results in a gain of 32 million dollars in crop production.

Since pesticides are powerful chemicals, they must be used carefully and always in the right situation. Some may be safe for one use and not for another. Care in following directions is important.

In spite of all the publicity, there has been no instance of human death in Canada from any pesticide used according to directions. And much of the talk about effects on wild life has been gross exaggeration. Naturalists tell us that in many cases birds and other forms of wild life ae increasing faster than humans.

THE BIBLE TODAY

The commercial traveller drove into a large service station in the Transvaal, South Africa, the one he always patronized, and while the attendants were busy he strolled into the manager's office.

"Hello, John. How's business? Selling plenty of petrol? By the way, I've got a nice book for you to read; it's a paperback, won't take you very long to get through." As he spoke, he thrust it into John's hand.

The traveller returned to his car and John turned to the next customer. The paperback lay on a desk surrounded by brake fluid, car polish, rear-view mirrors and hosts of other gadgets.

Later that day John took up that book. Almost at once, he was gripped by its message. To his surprise he found it to be Today's English Version of the New Testament, a book he seldom, if ever, read. But this was different! It was written in everyday English which he could easily grasp. He read on and the hours passed unnoticed.

The time of closing found him at his post. He should have been tired, but wasn't. He gathered his staff and attendants together, and showed them the book. "This is the greatest book in the world," he said.

Chances For Retraining Unsafe Drivers

Scientists have discovered that convicted motorists are almost twice as dangerous as drivers who have never been in trouble with the police.

Even years after paying his fine and serving out his "sentence" the convicted motorist is twice as likely to be an unsafe driver. These findings are released by the Public Service Division of British Motor Holdings from a report by Britain's Government — controlled Road Research Laboratory who are developing a scheme for re-training unsafe drivers. The idea is to devise a scientific driver-training scheme tailored to the needs of delinquent motorists.

Announcing results of their latest studies as "a most important piece of research" the scientists say that of 50 convicted motorists used in their experiment only 18 drove safely during a special series of tests. Against this the boffins found 33 safe drivers in a random group of 50 unconvicted motorists.

Psychologist Mr. Stuart Quenault, in charge of this project, has so far tested a total of about 800 drivers, half of them with convictions for careless or dangerous driving. Some motorists have been submitted to tests almost immediately after leaving court. Other bad-record motorists have been test-examined years after their convictions.

Now BMH says that drivers with careless or dangerous convictions show that they: Overtake more vehicles, take more risks and carry out more unnecessary manoeuvres than un-convicted motorists. Also, bad-record drivers use their rear view mirror less than "safe" motorists.

Mr. Quenault expects to complete his final piece of research in this series later this year. Then a final report, setting out the chances for re-training unsafe drivers, will be sent to Britain's Minister of Transport, for action.

Bless Our Dad

To belittle homespun mottoes is far from my intention,
But I've a little kick about a certain
one I'll mention;
I think the motto reading: What is Home without a Mother?
Could be improved upon by: What is Home without a Father?
Of course the name of Mother, serves to quicken all our senses,
And 'though she figures in our hearts
Dad figures in expenses;
A Mother kind and gentle makes much brighter things about her
And though a home be e'er so grand,
'tis not the same without her.
I charge you once again that I don't want to slight or slander,
But then what's sauce for Goosie should be dished up for the Gander;
I think it's time to cal a halt, and just reverse the lever
By writing o'er the mantlepiece
"God bless our Dad forever"
He gets up early in the morn, just as the day is peeping,
He starts a fire and cooks his eggs,
while most of us are sleeping.
He eats his grub, then grabs his coat and leaving in a hustle,
He strikes his job on time, and toils for us with brain and muscle.
He makes a weekly handout to the baker and the butcher,
To the milkman and the grocer he's the cheque-book and the voucher;
If there's a stir at midnight, he's elbowed from his slumber
And sent downstairs to reassure us alltimes without number.
He steps upon the rocker and the back with vicious tending,
Lands in his face and he goes down
on carpet tacks upending;
He's not afraid of burglars or any prowling sapper,
And if you do him wrong you'll find he's something of a scrapper.
Mother darns the stockings with her fingers skilled and nimble,
Dad bought them, and to mend them bought the needles, yarn and thimble;
Mother cooks the Sunday chicken,
but then Dad does all the carving,
Gets the neckpart as his portion,
which he knows to keep from starving.
Mother does a lot of cooking and of late 'most all the praying,
But I think Dad should be equal, for he does a lot of paying.
What is Home without a Mother? Is all right my honest neighbour,
What is Home without a Father?
Well, without his cash or labour.
It's generally a boarding house, and
Mother is the mistress,
Kept hustling to make ends meet
with hash and prunes and twisters;
If there are any children they're all hunting for positions,
Oh yes; Home without a Father always alters the conditions.
So I propose a motto, which is cheering, bright and clever,
Giving all the credit due him;
"Heaven bless our Dad forever".

As remembered by J. P. Heffernan

Dollars and Good Sense

by WILLIAM J. MARTIN

This column is a regular weekly feature prepared by the family Financial Councelling Service of the Avco Delta Corporation, P.O. Box 2820, London, Ontario. All questions submitted to the above address will be answered, in print or by return mail. Names will not be used in print However, all questions should be accompanied by a complete name and address.

QUESTION: Dear Sir: Could you tell me, in your opinion, how much a family of five (three children - - - two girls, 14 and 11, and a boy, 8) need to carry on a moderate standard of living? Let's presume they plan and budget. M.E.R.

ANSWER: You asked "how much (money) a family of five needs to carry on a moderate standard of living," a question which needs definition in order to answer - - - - and which, if defined, would answer itself.

For example, what might perhaps be a "moderate standard of living" to you and to me would be a luxury to one segment of the population and a pauper's income to those fortunate families at the other end of the spectrum.

Thus, what is a "moderate standard of living?" Is it steak three times a week? A new wardrobe for the entire family, every spring and every fall? Is it a new car every three years? Is it more than this or less than this?

If we could define these things, we would have the answer to your question. Of course, it would be a different answer for almost every family, but it would answer, wouldn't it?

Unfortunately, in our society we can't dictate the kind of income we would like to have, even though we would consider that income only "moderate." Instead, our family financial planning must start with the income we have. Then we must spread that income so that it affords us maximum satisfaction. We must make individual decisions as to how we want to spend what money we have — the amount we want to spend for food, clothing, shelter and other necessities, and if there is any left over, in what ways we want to dispose of that income.

Needless to say, we may not be able to spend as much as we would like for food (for example) because to do so would leave us with an amount insufficient to pay for other necessities. So we must balance our spending — all the while staying within our income, the first rule of sound family financial management.

I appreciate that I have not given you the kind of answer to your question that you would like, but I hope I've shown you that there is no direct answer to that question.

QUESTION: Dear Sir: Several times you have written about both a savings account and what you call a "rainy-day fund". Don't you mean the same thing?

ANSWER: Actually I don't. You know, of course, about a savings account. This is something that everyone who can handle it should have. It is that amount that you pay yourself out of each payday; the amount you put aside over and above your expenses for your future security, to buy something you want in the future, to help pay for the children's education or maybe to add to your retirement benefits. Your savings account in reality is or should be a fixed expense in the sense that your income should exceed your expenses by a little bit, at least.

On the other hand, a "rainy-day fund" is a set amount that you should have set aside for a time when you may be forced out of work and will need operating capital until you can get back on your feet or find another job. Most people have found that an adequate "rainy-day fund" amounts to two months' pay on the job they now have. With a "fund" of two months' pay, the average individual can generally get himself straightened out in that period without having to deplete his normal savings account or go deeply into debt.

Vegetables With A Flair

How well do you know your vegetables? Do you have a variety of interesting ways to serve them to your family? Here is your chance to find all the answers to your problems with vegetables.

This fall the Home Economic Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture and Food is putting on the senior Training School, "Vegetables With A Flair" in Hastings County.

Senior Training Schools are offered to a county or district and consist of a 2-day course from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Any Women's Institute or other organized group of women may send a leader and assistant leader to the Training School. The local organization is responsible for the travelling and living expenses of its leader and assistant leader. The leader and assistant leader are responsible for taking back to the group the information given at the T.S.

Ontario has forty or more kinds of vegetables from which to choose and this training school deals with as many as possible in various forms, fresh, canned, frozen, dried. During the course you will study such topics as Vegetables Through the Ages, Vegetables in the Economic Picture, Variety in Vegetables, Vegetable Cookery, Many Ways to Serve Vegetables, Vegetables in Salads, Vegetable Garnishes, Vegetable Garnishes, Vegetable Relish Trays and Artistry With Vegetables. A busy two days? It certainly will be, but I am sure that you will enjoy the two days as well as the recipes given out at the course. Anyone for Oriental Asparagus or Squash Souffle?

Because of the mail strike we have been very slow in sending out the application forms. The Training School will be held on September 17th and 18th and we will need to have applications in by September 6th. If you are interested and do not have an application form, please contact the Ontario Department of Agriculture and Food at Stirling.

Anger Is Outrageous

The offensiveness, or outrageousness, of wrath is apparent in the face of one who has lost his temper. The flashing eyes, furrowed forehead, and distorted countenance all indicate the hateful, unbalanced nature of anger. The author of the book of Proverbs described anger well in these words: "Wrath is cruel, and anger is outrageous" (Proverbs 27:4).

The individual who is inclined to react angrily needs to develop self-control through brotherly love, which confers an equanimity that is difficult to overthrow. Christian Science, which emphasizes the practicability of Biblical teachings, shows one how to love, how to bring his thoughts, motives, words, and actions into obedience to God. It explains that God is infinite Love and that man is the image and likeness of Love. Therefore no offensive display of temper ever mars the Christ-love which animates man. As one acknowledges these truths and humbly seeks to follow the Way-shower of Christianity, Christ Jesus, who met malice with the serene assurance of divine Love, one will be able to overcome anger.

In "Miscellaneous Writings," Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, declares (p. 356). "The pent-up elements of mortal mind need no terrible detonation to free them. Envy, rivalry, hate need no temporary indulgence that they be destroyed through suffering; they should be stifled from lack of air and freedom."

The individual who exercises such Christly control will find that the consistent replacement of anger with love will stabilize and sweeten his disposition until explosive situations no longer develop. His victory over anger will also enable him to overcome worse sins and even disease.

James, who expressed tender, forgiving, patient love, wrote to his fellow workers in the early Christian church (James 1:19, 29), "My beloved brethren, let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, slow to wrath: for the wrath of man worketh not the righteousness of God." — The Christian Science Monitor.

Why An S.M.V. Sign

The orange and red triangular Slow Moving Vehicle sign will be required by law September 1st, 1968, on Ontario's farm vehicles travelling the public roads. Why do we need this additional sign on highways that sometimes appear to be overcrowded already with signs?

Well, in 1967, Ontario's farmers were involved in 246 car-tractor accidents. These are 246 reasons why this Slow Moving Vehicle sign is necessary. Add to this the 10 fatalities, 140 injuries and over $250,000 loss in property damage, and the need for this special sign is quite apparent.

As a motorist, learn to recognize this orange and red triangle as a warning of a slow vehicle. This will give you time to stop and prevent you fom becoming a statistic.

A Small Boy's Diary

There is a certain nine year-old boy in this county who is keeping a diary. The book was given him last Christmas by a relative and his father had forgotten all about it until he accidently found the volume the other day. Curious to see what his small son had written in it, he opened the book and found that the diary had been faithfully kept. Here are a few of the entries; "I am nine years-old to-day. Looked in the glass but Whiskars aint sproutin yet."

"Sassed a boy. Got licked."

"Pop borowed 10c for carfare, that makes $1.15 he owes me, wonder if I'll ever get it."

"Jimmie—stole my ball. I licked him for it.

"Ast Pop for some of my money and he gave me a nickiil. I want that doler."

"We feloes got up a baseball club to-day. I'm pitcher. If I had that doler 15 I could get a uniform."

"Pop got paid to-day and gave me my money."

"Mama borid a doler. Darn these people anyway. A feloe can't save nothing."

"Ast Pop about banks. I want to put my money where carfare aint so skarse."

"Got licked again."

There was more of this, But, "Pop" had read enough. As a result there was a conference and now the arrangement is to pay five percent a week interest, and settle every pay day.

"The boy got his uniform.

Cribs For Corn Storage Needed For Small Farms

Increased acreage of corn in Eastern Ontario is going to cause problems in the storage of grain corn here, says John Curtis, Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology. Facilities for accumulation and storage of the corn have lagged behind the expanded production.

The corn picker-crib storage method has particular application on smaller farms, and is being recommended for farmers in Eastern Ontario by crop researchers at Kemptville College of Agricultural Technology. Mr. Curtis points out that this is the best method of handling the grain corn until drying facilities are more plentiful there.

Another advantage to using the crib for storage is that the harvest can be spread over a longer period of time. Moisture levels for corn to be stored in a crib should be 30 percent or below.

Corn cribs should be constructed to give good ventilation (particularly if the moisture levels are higher than 30 percent), and should give protection against outside moisture. The recommended width is 4½ to 5 feet, the height 12 feet, and the length as needed. Consideration should be given to some convenient means of filling and emptying.

Plans for corn cribs are available from the Canadian Farm Building Plan Service in a catalog of plans entitled "Grain Storage, Structure and Equipment". Catalogs and advice are available from County and District Agricultural Representatives and Extension Engineers, Ontario Department of Agriculture and Food.

A Letter to the Citizens of Stirling and District

— FROM THE MERCHANTS OF STIRLING —

This year we have relaxed a little bit in our local activities — due to a very busy year of Canada's Centennial.

We welcome suggestions to improve and beautify our town. This is a benefit to you and also beneficial to the businessman.

Stirling citizens can be proud of their small Village. We have complete shopping conveniences, artificial ice, lighted ball diamond, bowling alleys, bowling green, golf course, skiing slopes, swimming, active service clubs and many other facilities to attract tourists and retiring families.

This is why we think our customers to be the best people in the world.

On this page are specials and features from twenty-nine merchants who are members of the Chamber of Commerce. We hope you will take advantage of this and shop in Stirling and attend the Stirling Fair.

STIRLING FALL FAIR WEEK ISSUE

New Stirling Liquor Store Opened Here on Thursday Morning

At 10.00 a.m., Thursday, August 22nd, the new Liquor Store on North Street opened its doors to the public. During the first part of the week, the basic stock was shipped to the store.

Work on the building began in the Spring, with Harron Construction Ltd., Toronto, in charge of construction.

Planned with an eye to structural detail, the one storey building reflects the integrated planning that has gone into its design, construction and furnishings.

Modern materials have been employed to advantage in such items as the attractive brick exterior, aluminum framed windows, vinyl asbestos flooring and acoustic tile ceiling.

Fluorescent lighting has also been installed to accent the warmth reflected by the retail area's pleasant constrasting colour scheme.

A paved parking area at the front and sides of the store make for ample customer off-street parking.

The hours of sale for the new store will be 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily with extended hours to 9 p.m. on Fridays. During the Fall and Winter months the store will be closed on Mondays.

Temporary manager of the store is Bill Cartwright, manager of the Havelock store, with assistant Ted Rowland, of Belleville.

Vernon E. Jackett, of Fenelon Falls, has been appointed manager and will be taking over early in September. The assistant manager will be appointed in the near future.

Empty beer and ale bottles may be left at the office of Claude Trumble Construction Ltd., in the north end of the Stirling Lumber Building, for the regular refund.

Rumours That Police Chief Leaving Are Untrue

Police Chief Chas. E. Hicks, of Stirling, has informed the News-Argus that several times recently he has been asked the question: "I hear you are leaving Stirling?". The Chief states that these rumours are not true and that if he ever decides to leave, the Village Council will be the first to know.

Horticultural Society Dinner Meeting

On Monday, August 26th, approximately twenty-five people enjoyed a sumptuous pot luck dinner at the home of Wm. Ashby, Trent River. Due to the inclement weather, the annual garden tour was cancelled.

Mrs. Floyd Armstrong, President, conducted a discussion on various phases of garden procedure and the balance of the afternoon was spent in a sight-seeing tour in that area.

Stirling Council To Meet Sept. 3rd

Stirling Village Council will hold its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, September 3rd, at 7.30 p.m., due to Monday being a public holiday. Parties with business to bring before Council are asked to note the change of date.

Mr. J. B. Belshaw First Customer

Mr. J. B. Belshaw, left, who made the first purchase Thursday morning at the new Liquor Store, North St., Stirling. He is accompanied by Reeve D. W. Rodgers and Police Chief C. E. Hicks.

Mr. Belshaw noted that about seventy-five years ago, in Stirling, he recalls standing in line waiting for dinner on the 12th of July at the Stirling House, then operated by Bob Bennett. Dinner was 25c. Later proprietors were Geo. Whitty, Will Whitty, Jim Ackers and Pat Long. Other hotels in Stirling, according to Mr. Belshaw, were the Kerby House (or Paisley House), which is now Jack's Appliances, and the proprietor was Michael Kerby and later Clint McGee; and the Scott House, operated by James Cooney, which now houses Bradshaw's Children's Wear.

A liquor store at the same time, situated at the corner of Front and Henry Streets, was operated by John Black. This is the property that the Bank of Montreal has purchased.

Mr. Belshaw remembers when a small glass sold for five cents. One hotel keeper said he didn't know what whiskey tasted like.

Now An Accountant

Congratulations are extended to Robert Vandervoort, who was recently appointed to the position of accountant with the Bank of Montreal. He has been transferred to the Wynford and Gervais Drive Branch in the Don Mills area, which was opened on August 19th.

Robert began his banking career in the Stirling Branch of the Bank of Montreal before being transferred to Toronto.

Raising Cain

Well, President George and Lil are on the rampage again. This time it's to the East Coast. Vice-President Fred was left in charge. Don't worry, George, he'll get along O.K. He knows how to handle men and always did have a wonderful way with ladies.

Fred graciously thanked Neva Cain, who provided a lovely lunch, including a birthday cake in honour of Clifford Cain's birthday.

Our best to you, Clifford. You are one of our originals and have an almost perfect attendance.

In the olden days, the pioneer didn't buy anything new until he got able. It's different now. Young folk seem to want to start where Dad left off. Maybe they steal a page from Adam and Eve who raised Cain before they got Abel.

In Hospital

Joe Valchar, of town, was admitted to Belleville General Hospital on Wednesday of last week. He was injured last Tuesday morning when the car he was driving crashed into a tree on Front St. E., opposite Arnold Wanamaker's residence.

Doubles Tourney

A Belleville entry won top honours of the day at a Mixed Doubles Tournament held at the local Lawn Bowling Club on Saturday afternoon and evening.

Eighteen teams took part in the competition with three 14-end games being played. Bowling was very keen, with an extra end needed to decide several games.

The draw consisted of four entries from Kingston; three each from Belleville, Trenton, Madoc and Stirling and one from Mimico.

The high honours of the day went to Ab. Wonnacott and Mrs. Edna Jackman, of Belleville. Other three-game winners were Clint Maguire and Helen Bowen, Trenton, and Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Haker, also of Trenton. Two-game high went to Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Lugtenburg, Belleville. High for one win were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Carr, of Belleville.

At the supper hour, a delicious turkey dinner was served by the ladies of the Club.

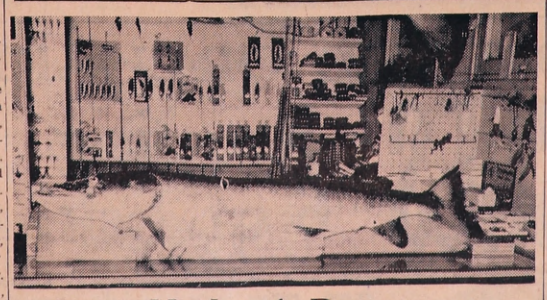
A sumptuous dinner was served at 12.30 to thirty guests. Many friends and relatives called during the afternoon and evening. He received many lovely gifts and boxes of fruit.

Among the guests present were a niece, Mrs. Cecil Younie and daughters, of Howick, Que. Other guests were from Campbellford, Marmora, Belleville, Frankford and Stirling.



Hooks A Beauty

Andy Maiken, of Steubenville, Ohio, caught this large muskie in the Trent River on Wednesday night, August 22nd. He was staying at the Bona Vista Fishing Camp and was fishing near the island south of the camp with resort owner Ted Dobson.

The fish measured 51 inches in length, with a girth of 21½ inches. Weight was 36 pounds. It was caught on a hula popper fishing plug.

The fish was brought to Don Tucker's West End Bait Shop, Stirling, that night, where it was placed in a deep freezer.

Stirling taxidermist, Stan Olsansky, is in the process of mounting the muskie.

Splendid Programme Arranged For Stirling Fall Fair This Weekend

The annual Fall Fair, sponsored by the Stirling Agricultural Society, is scheduled for Friday and Saturday of this week, August 30th and 31st. The committee in charge of the various attractions has lined up a programme for appeal to all, and indications point to it being one of the best ever seen locally.

In preparing the programme, the committee has ever kept in view that the Fair is primarily for the agriculturists of the community and has endeavoured to make it of particular interest to farmers. However, the urban dwellers have not been overlooked and there are many items that should appeal to them as well.

It is the hope of the Society that the citizens of Stirling and community will show their appreciation of the efforts put forth by the directors by giving their wholehearted support to the Fair, not only with their attendance, but by competing in as many events as possible.

Acknowledge Donations

The directors desire to thank the citizens of Stirling and Hastings County who, by their generous donations, have assisted them in arranging for this year's Fair.

Light Horses Featured

All of the familiar events are again on the agenda and a good afternoon's entertainment is promised for Saturday, August 31st.

Light horses will again be featured with many of the classes shown in front of the grandstand. This event proved very popular at last year's Fair and a large exhibit of horses is expected.

There will be races for small ponies and a musical chairs competition open to ponies.

Good Exhibits

There will also be the usual good horse and cattle exhibits, as well as sheep and swine. In the main building will be found the ladies' work exhibit, cheese exhibit, High and Public School exhibits and the Horticultural exhibits.

Junior Farmer Section

In the Junior Section of the Fair, patrons will be privileged to view the Achievement Day exhibits of the Stirling 4-H Calf Club and the Hastings 4-H Corn Club.

The farm machinery companies will also have their usual display of farm equipment on the grounds.

The customary Junior Farmers section will again be featured this year.

Western Games Again This Year

The Western Games programme which has proved so popular in the past, will again be featured this year. This attraction will last all afternoon and draws a large number of contestants from across the province.

Good Midway

Arrangements have been made with the C & S Midway for a midway with rides and booths for both the children and patrons of the Fair.

Refreshment booths will be in operation on the grounds, while a ladies' group will serve hot meals in the Fair dining hall.

Dance on Saturday Night

The Fair programme will conclude Saturday night with a dance. This will feature an "All Ages Dance". Oldtime music will be provided by Gord Grills and the Road Rangers, of Whitby, and rock and roll music by T. C. and the Gang, of Belleville. There will be no intermission, with continuous music from 8 p.m. until midnight.

Your Patronage Solicited

In presenting the programme the committee feels it should have the support of the community and, given good weather, the attendance should be the best ever. All roads lead to Stirling Fair Grounds on Saturday, August 31st, and citizens of the surrounding district will be out in force to lend their support to the Agricultural Society.

To Observe 91st Birthday

Mrs. Jessie Bird, Church St., will quietly observe her 91st birthday anniversary on Thursday, August 29th.

Mrs. Bird is in fairly good health and keeps in touch with current events.

Won At Belleville

A Stirling team was high three-game winners in the Ladies' Trebles Tournament held in Belleville last week. Verna Woodbeck skip, with Barbara Pitman and Tillie Prest, as teammates, rolled a score of 54 plus ten for the high score of the tournament.

MR. AND MRS. EVERETT OWEN KETCHESON

KETCHESON -- FARGEY WEDDING

The marriage of Nancy Elizabeth Fargey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Fargey, West Huntingdon and Everett Owen Ketcheson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Ketcheson, Roslin, R. R. No. 2 was solemnized in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Stirling, on August 17, 1968 at high noon. Rev. D. C. MacPherson officiated. The organist was Mrs. Harry Morrow and the soloist was Mrs. Arthur Hassall. Standards of white and yellow gladioli adorned the altar.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a floor length gown of original white Venice lace and paloma with empire style waistline, A-line skirt and long lily point sleeves. The full-length Watteau lace train fell from a row of tiny buttons. Her four tier shoulder-length veil of silk tulle was caught to a headpiece of satin roses and lilies-of-the-valley. She carried a white Bible enhanced with red Sweetheart roses and satin streamers.

The maid of honour was the groom's sister, Miss Linda Ketcheson. She wore a floor-length gown of Peppermint green pure silk chiffon over taffeta with scooped neckline and Venetian lace yoke. From the back of this yoke was a floating panel of chiffon. She wore a matching bow in her hair and carried a cascade of yellow and white Shasta 'mums.

The bridesmaids were Miss Anne Ashley and Miss Margaret Sills. They were identically attired to the maid of honour.

Groomsman was Mr. Donald Farrel, of Roslin, RR No. 2 and the ushers were Mr. James Fargey, the bride's brother and Mr. Robert Williams, the groom's sousin.

The reception was held in the Church Parlours.

Mrs. Fargey received her guests in a pure silk crepe sheath of Paris blue with lace bodice, sleeves, and appliques on the skirt. Her matching hat also had lace appliques. Her accessories were white and she wore a corsage of pale pink Sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Ketcheson assisted in a pale pink sheath and coat ensemble of lace. The coat featured bell sleeves edged with satin bands. She wore pink and white accessories and a corsage of deep pink Sweetheart roses.

For the wedding trip to points west the bride wore a dress and coat ensemble of Imported silk worsted of iced turquoise. The dress featured roll collar, lace sleeves and lace band at the hemline of skirt. The coat of simple cut was fastened at the neckline with tiny buttons. She wore white accessories and a corsage of red Sweetheart roses.

Out-of-town guests were present from Toronto, Trenton, Belleville, Campbellford, Picton, Frankford, Glen Miller, Deloro and Roslin.

The young couple will reside on the groom's farm at Roslin, RR 2.

Previous to her marriage, Mrs. Owen Ketcheson (nee Nancy Fargey) was entertained at several showers.

A china shower was given by Mrs. Edward Pollock of Ivanhoe.

A cup and saucer shower was held at the home of Mrs. Stanley Galloway of Trenton.

Mrs. George Ashley, of Belleville entertained several friends and the bride was presented with a mix master and a cornflower crystal dish.

Also the bride was entertained at a dinner party by the office staff of Deloro Stellite, where she was presented with cornflower crystal and a travelling case.

Ivanhoe Institute

The August meeting of the Ivanhoe Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Lindsay Sills, with the President, Mrs. Russell Sills, in the chair.

The President opened the meeting with the Institute Ode and Mary Stewart Collect. During the business it was moved by Mrs. Howard Cooke and seconded by Mrs. Elmer Woods that all bills be paid. It was moved by Mrs. Dan Cooke and seconded by Mrs. Peter Roeper that $5.00 be donated to Stirling Fair Board toward prizes and also $5.00 to Madoc Fair Board for prizes.

It was moved by Mrs. H. Cooke and Mrs. M. Sarles that the Institute ladies cater to the wedding coming up on the Thanksgiving week end.

The collection and birthday money was gathered; also the Pennies for Friendship.

At the last Institute meeting it was decided that each convener would give a short talk on whatever she was convenor for at each meeting. Mrs. F. Keller gave a talk on Agriculture and Mrs. H. Cooke on Home Economics. The rest of the meeting was turned over to Mrs. Roeper, the Resolutions convenor.

Mrs. Roeper opened the meeting by giving the motto, "We shouldn't look at the fellow who has more — There's always someone worse off". Mrs. Dan Cooke and Karen Roeper gave readings on "Precious Stones" and a collection of them was passed around. Mrs. Mac Sarles gave a reading entitled "Little Things". Mrs. Roeper and daughters favoured with music. Mrs. John Wallace gave a paper on C.A.C. Another reading was given by Karen Roeper and the meeting closed with the Queen.

Mrs. Howard Cook thanked Mrs. Lindsay Sills for opening her home and Mrs. Roeper for preparing the programme and all those who took part in the programme.

Mrs. Sills and her assistant hostesses served a lovely lunch.

OF MANY THINGS

By Ambrose Hills

BETTER BUSINESS LEADERSHIP NEEDED

Here at Greenhorn Farm we have to spend a lot of money on equipment before we can call ourselves farmers, even the greenhorn kind. And a lot of that money will go to a department store whose catalogue enchanted Nora and me when we were prairie youngsters, and also served, when out of date, as good material for the reading room out back.

Years ago, when Nora was a little tot, she ordered white gloves from that catalogue, and lost one shortly after they arrived. Unknown to her parents, she mailed the one remaining glove back to Winnipeg with a note. They didn't question the matter at all, but sent her a duplicate pair. Her conscience bothered her for a long time, but her loyalty to that department store has never wavered over the years.

When we arrived at Greenhorn Farm, I ordered a roto-tiller from that same store, and perhaps because I'm a mechanical dope, had trouble with it. The store took it back and repaired it for me. Again this spring, I couldn't get it started; so out they came and picked it up, returning it to me yesterday in first-class shape, starting on the firstpull. Mr. Wallace, manager of their catalogue warehouse may not realize it, but he made a lot of profit for his Company on that deal, because today Nora bought a brand new fancy electric stove from them and I placed a huge order for seed. We've many years of purchasing to do yet, we hope, and they will get the bulk of it; and then there are our five children, all indoctrinated with the reliability of that particular department store.

They also get this plug, for I'm convinced that every prairie reader will know which store I mean.

This is the kind of business leadership Canada needs quite urgently today. The drift to socialism is caused in large part by distrust of business leadership. Free enterprise is unquestionably the finest system in the world for honest men to live by. Sad to say, it takes a terrible licking from some of the very business men who ought to give it a shine instead of a tarnish.

A Message To District Farmers . . .

Hay and Pasture Mixtures

"THE HARD SELL"

This autumn will bring another parade of out-of-town salesmen canvassing door-to-door for your orders for farm seed mixtures. We would like to caution against such purchases by pointing out a few factors that may not occur to you:

Prices: The extra cost of wages, automobile and travelling must be included somewhere in the price. An unnecessary expense for you.

Service: Your local man is in a far better position to alter your order, exchange if necessary, or adjust any discrepancies.

Recommendations: We conventional dealers follow the general recommendations of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. Our forage mixtures are relatively simple and are "purpose designed" for top yield potential.

Cancellations: Once you have signed an order it is almost impossible to cancel for any reason. Your local dealer does not require a legal contract to cover every future order.

Your local supplier is every bit as well informed as the average itinerant salesman and has a good deal more at stake in your community. He is available to you at all times for "after sale" information and service at your convenience.

Although we cannot call on every farmer in our trading area, we will be glad to visit those who feel that we can better assist them in selecting mixtures by making a personal visit. Either fill out and mail the attached coupon or simply telephone collect our Farm Seed Department (968-5533) and ask for a representative to call. We have had the privilege of serving, both directly and indirectly, the farmers of this community for over half a century and wish to assure you that this service continues to be our prime interest.

Sincerely,

BISHOP SEEDS LTD.

If you have been listening to world news you no doubt have been moved by the desperate hunger, disease and terrible experiences of the Biafran people. In Nigeria-Biafra already millions of people have been uprooted, thousands have died of starvation and hundreds of thousands will soon die unless they receive help. You can read this horrible story in the current issue of Time Magazine, August 23rd, "Biafra's Agony".

In response to these desperate human needs the Canadian Red Cross, Canadian Council of Churches, the Canadian Catholic Organization for Development of Peace, Unicef, Oxfam and the Save the Children Fund have gone together to establish the Nigeria-Biafra Relief Fund of Canada.

The General Council of the United Church urges every local congregation to co-operate in this urgent appeal.

In St. Paul's United Church, Stirling, they are making a suggestion as to how their members can contribute in a real way to the hungry people of Biafra. They are suggesting a "fast" day. They suggest that every family go on a liquid diet on Wednesday, August 28th.

St. Paul's youth group, the Hi-C, will be phoning every family during Thursday and Friday, August 29th-30th. These young people will politely ask whether the member observed the fast and would he like to contribute the money he would ordinarily have spent for food on this one day to Biafra Relief. If for some reason the member cannot undergo the fast and still wishes to contribute the Church will gladly accept his gift. The Youth Group will also be holding an imaginery hot dog stand at the local Stirling Fair. Proceeds will go for Biafra Relief.

Remember the words of Christ: 'Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

Poise is the ability to talk fluently while the other fellow is paying the check.

If you want to get fat, don't eat fast; if you want to get thin, don't eat, fast.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN HUIBERT KOOMANS

KOOMANS -- KLOMPMAKER

Maranatha Christian Reformed Church of Belleville, was the scene of a August 10th, 1968, wedding when Rev. E. Girtter united in marriage Betty Beatrix Klompmaker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Klompmaker, of Stirling, to John Huibert Koomans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Koomans, of R.R. 5, Belleville.

Mr. Melis Koomans rendered wedding music while Mrs. Grace Doornbos was the soloist for the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of chiffon over satin. From the empire waist fell an elegant A-line skirt with wide lace ruffles at the hem. The bodice featured flowered lace over satin with a scooped neckline with seed pearls and had lily-point sleeves. The chapel-length train, also with wide lace ruffles, fell from the shoulders and the shoulder-length veil was attached to a pill box, touched with seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of sweetheart roses with trailing ivy.

Matron of honour, Mrs. Lammie Kwantes, of Port Credit, sister of the bride, wore a full-length gown, empire style, of beige moire with white peau-de-soie bodice, featuring four-button cuffs and a bow at the waist. She wore a matching headpiece and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

The bridesmaids, Miss Dorothea Koomans and Miss Maria Koomans, sisters of the groom, wore similar gowns of blue moire skirts and matching headpieces and carried identical bouquets.

The flower girl was Miss Francine Klompmaker, of Stirling, niece of the bride. She wore an identical gown of pink moire with matching headpiece and carried a basket of white 'mums and pink carnations.

Attending the groom was Mr. Hans Koomans of Barrie, brother of the groom. The ushers were Mr. Baa Koomans, of Sudbury, also brother of the groom, and Mr. Tony Klompmaker, of Bowmanville, brother of the bride.

The wedding reception was held in the church parlours with guests attending from Bowmanville, Port Credit, Peterborough, Patterson, New Jersey; Stirling and Belleville.

The bride's mother received the guests wearing a coat and dress ensemble of turquoise blue with beige accessories and a corsage of red roses. Assisting was the bridegroom's mother, who was wearing a dress and matching jacket of black and gold with black accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

For the wedding trip through the United States, the bride chose a sleeveless two-piece outfit of pale green crimpoline with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations. Upon their return, the couple will reside in Markham, Ont.

EMERGENCY POWER

Do you have provision for emergency electrical service on your farm? While hydro power is not often interrupted for any length of time, occassionally ice storms do knock power lines down for long periods.

There was a time, not so long ago, when if the power went off everybody pitched in to milk cows by hand, by the light of the lantern, and you just made out the best possible until power came on.

Today with larger herds, and much more mechanical equipment using power, it has become another story. Stand-by generators which may be operated from the tractor power take off. The generator can be hooked into the power line at the main box.

An important question is how big a generator to buy. It is not usually necessary to provide enough power to operate the full farm load. By care in only using needed lights, and only turning on critical equipment, the power demand may be kept down.

When adding up the power load which the generator must carry don't forget that it takes more power to start a motor than to operate it.

Your local hydro office will help decide the best size of generator for your needs, but a general recommendation is that if the largest motor to be used is three horse, than a 10 or 12 KVA generator is needed. If you must operate a five horse motor, get a 15 KVA generator. The term KVA stands for 1000 volt amperes and you can calculate the number of volt amperes by multiplying the figures on the nameplates of motors and adding the wattage of the light bulbs.

Another thumb rule to keep in mind is the fact that you will need about two h.p. of tractor power for each 1000 watts of power generated.

Before starting the generator turn off all equipment. Then start the generator and bring it up to recommended speed. Next turn on the largest motor first, and then turn on the rest, one at a time. If the voltage drops below 200, turn off some of the equipment to reduce the load.

Be sure that everyone who may be left in charge of the farm thoroughly understands how to operate the emergency unit.

THE BIBLE TODAY

The missionary surgeon was making one of his regular journeys from his hospital in Kimpese, Congo Republic, to outlying areas, and as usual took a supply of Scripture portions and tracts to give to those he met. At one point he came to a roadblock manned by Congolese soldiers. "It must have been a camouflage exercise," Dr. David Wilson recalled, "because the soldier approaching me was dressed like a bush. Except that poking out of the bush was a submachinegun.

"As this walking bush approached the car, I lowered my window and smiled to look as pleasant as possible considering the gun he was carrying.

"The soldier thrust the machine gun across the window frame into the automobile and growled at me with a demanding voice, "Give me the book of God!". This was the name people were giving to the Scripture the missionaries distributed.

Dr. Wilson willingly complied. Though people in the Congo are often very eager to acquire copies of the Scriptures, he had never before been forced at gunpoint to spread the Word of God.
